Byron White Takes Oath As Justice On High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Kennedy watching in a packed Supreme Court chamber, Byron R. White was sworn in today as an associate justice.

It is the first time in history that a former law clerk of the tribunal has ascended to the court's bench. White served as a law clerk in 1946-47 under the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

Among those watching the husky 44-year-old former deputy attorney general take the public oath were his wife, and two children — Charles, 8 and Nancy 4,—and his brother Clayton White.

Also present were Mrs. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stearns, and Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy.

Before the public ceremony in the marbled chamber, White had taken in a private conference room the constitutional oath to "well and faithfully discharge" his duties as a justice.

This oath was administered in the presence only of the other justices of the court.

The 10 o'clock ceremony in the court was a few minutes late getting under way. The President took his seat in the benches reserved for distinguished guests at 10:05 a.m. A minute later the eight justices filed in. White was the last to enter.

Bill Awaited To Restrict Monopolies

Senate Subpoenas 12 Firms For Data On '62 Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to strengthen the government's power to break up monopolistic corporations was on its way to the Senate today while Senate subpoenas were being sped to the dozen largest steel companies.

The massive assault mounted by President Kennedy against steel's $6-a-ton increase was still rolling, though the price boost was rescinded Friday.

The battle's aftermath found the stock market at a 1962 low, Kennedy's prestige at a new high, and the prospects for his whole legislative program considered suddenly brighter.

Pressing ahead with its announced antimonopoly investigation, the Senate Antitrust subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., wrote subpoenas for the 12 top companies to bring in figures on production by mid-May.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., prepared to introduce three bills today to sharpen the teeth of the antitrust laws.

His bills would not have been given an outside chance of passage a week ago. Now they must be regarded seriously, especially since Democratic legislators can be expected to capitalize on the so-called monopoly issue in this campaign year.

The Gore measures would:

1. Give the president power under the Taft-Hartley law to obtain an 80-day injunction against a general price increase in a basic commodity. The procedure would be parallel to the cooling-off period provided for "national emergency" strikes.

2. Create a national consumers advisory board. It would not have binding power but, in a fact-find-

U.S. Denies Berlin Force Due Cutback

News Story Called Incorrect By State Department Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today denied most emphatically that it had proposed any reduction of Western troops in Berlin.

"No such proposal on troops reductions has been made," State Department spokesman Lincoln White told a hurriedly convened, midmorning news conference.

White referred specifically to a news dispatch from Bonn, written by Flora Lewis for the Washington Post.

"The Flora Lewis piece in the press this morning is wholly inaccurate," White said.

The Bonn dispatch said that the reduction was part of a new four-point plan on Berlin. It said that the United States has suggested cutting the present 12,500 troops in West Berlin to about 9,000.

The story broke on the eve of new U.S.-Soviet talks in Washington on the Berlin crisis. Differences with West Germany over proposals to be made in the talks have narrowed the area of negotiations open to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

U.S. officials here and in Bonn were reported striving to win full approval from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to four major negotiating proposals circulated to allied governments by Rusk last week.

Adenauer continued to oppose strenuously any offer of a concession to the Russians, which in his view would move toward recognition of the Communist East German government.

The Berlin garrison totals some 12,500 troops of which over half are American. The Post story, by Flora Lewis under a Bonn dateline, said the reported offer would bring this down to about 3,000 each from the three occupying powers.

Such a reduction would call for withdrawal of a little more than 50 per cent of U.S. forces now in Berlin, withdrawal of a few hundred British troops and an increase in the French garrison.

Boyce Church Petition Opposes Bingo Move

Approximately 80 adults signed several petitions during services Sunday morning at Boyce Methodist Church in East End, urging City Council to uphold Ohio's law prohibiting bingo games.

The Rev. Ronald Rearic, pastor, said the petitions were presented this morning to Floyd Murray, First Ward councilman.

Four religious and fraternal organizations asked Council April 9 if charity bingo could be returned to East Liverpool under a strict system of municipal licensing and control. Council is studying the proposal. Bingo has not operated in the city since 1956.

Hurd Chosen In Wellsville Sanitary Post

Patrolman Harry Hurd, the oldest member of the Wellsville Police Department, today was appointed as city sanitation officer by Mayor William Daugherty.

Hurd, who has about 35 years' service, plans to resign from the force to accept the post, the mayor said. This was an important factor as it will allow him to be free full time to handle the duties, the mayor commented.

He said the duties, which primarily consist of handling complaints and making investigations for the Board of Health, require that the sanitarian be available at all times.

Hurd, who resides at 637 Highland Ave., served as a special police officer before joining the regular force. He has had a break in service and not all his time is continuous.

Hurd is expected to resign, effective May 1, when he will have 20 years' consecutive service. He will be eligible for a police pension.

Twenty men took the examination for the post held April 2 at City Hall. The papers were graded five days later and the names of the top four men submitted to the mayor.

The other three top scorers were Bill Long of Nevada St., city dog warden, Jerome Gitschier of Wells Ave. and Homer Lewis of 15th St. Their names are not listed according to how they placed in the exam.

The vacancy was created by the death of O. B. Kessel, who served in the post for many years. The appointment will create a vacancy on the police force.

Rockefeller Levels Blast At President

Governor Charges Basic Needs Have Not Been Attacked

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, considered contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1964, charged today that the Kennedy administration had failed to attack the nation's basic economic problems with sufficient vigor or understanding.

"Good sentiments are not enough if action is weak or ambiguous," the governor said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Economic Club of Detroit.

On the domestic scene, Rockefeller said, the basic problem is the downward trend in business profits and the lag in business capital investment due to inadequate incentives.

"The drop in our average growth rate in the later postwar years," the governor said, "has been directly related to the low rate of business investment in new plant equipment."

Although the national Democratic administration has proposed investment incentives in the form of tax credits and liberalized depreciation allowances, Rockefeller said, they are unsatisfactory and inadequate.

"It is most unfortunate that, having articulated the proper objectives, the Kennedy administration could not present a plan which would be adequate to do the job—a plan involving liberalized depreciation allowances or other effective methods which businessmen could enthusiastically support," Rockefeller said.

Blaze Kills 4 Children In Ohio Resort

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —Four children were fatally burned today in a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Branson four miles north of Lakeview in the Indian Lake resort area, Logan County sheriff's deputies reported.

The children, who have not been identified, ranged in age from 7 months to 5 years. Authorities said the baby was found in a crib, two children in bed and a fourth child under a bed.

Branson already had left for work when the fire started. Mrs. Branson escaped.

Cause of the blaze is undetermined. Assistant Fire Marshal Ed Urschel said the home was heated by a kerosene stove.

Deadline Falls Tonight For Income Tax Filing

Federal income tax returns must be postmarked by midnight tonight if they're to be accepted without penalty, Melvin J. Burton, district director of Internal Revenue, warned at Cleveland.

Ordinarily, the federal tax deadline falls on April 15, but it was moved back one day because of Sunday. For those last - minute returns, the district director's office address is: 220 St.Clair Ave. NW, Cleveland. The local office of the Internal Revenue Service on E. 5th and Washington St. will be open until 5 p. m. today.

Today also is the deadline for about 4,300 persons to file individual estimates of 1962 income with the city income tax office at City Hall. The reports are required only of persons whose income is not subject to withholding at the source.

Algerians Warn French On Secret Army Killings

ALGIERS (AP) — A Moslem mob lynched two Europeans near Algiers Sunday as the Algerian nationalist command warned the French to take stronger steps against the European Secret Army Organization.

In the first act of mass Moslem violence since the March 19 cease-fire, enraged youths stopped a car in the Maison Carre, industrial suburb nine miles southeast of Algiers. They dragged out the three men inside, beat them with rocks and sticks and set the car afire. Two of the Europeans were killed and the third critically injured.

Secret army terrorists driving through Moslem suburbs have shot down Moslem civilians nearly every day since the cease-fire. At least 250 Moslems have perished in Algiers alone. The terrorists are trying to provoke the Moslems into reprisals on a civil war scale that will block Algeria's advance toward independence.

Since the cease-fire, the Moslems have mostly heeded admonitions by nationalist leaders to stay calm despite violence against them.

Impatient over the continuing secret army terrorism, the nationalist command issued a sharp warning from its Tunis headquarters for France to show more energy in breaking the right-wing European resistance to Algerian independence.

The secret army continued to operate virtually unchecked.

Secret army commandos in paratroop uniforms seized Oran's central telephone exchange without opposition Sunday and chased away the outnumbered guard detachment.

France Gets New Cabinet Of Pompidou

Debre Aides Kept As DeGaulle Party Remains Dominant

PARIS (AP) — A new French Cabinet under Premier Georges Pompidou took office today with all the key ministers in Michel Debre's government retaining their jobs.

No new parties were represented in Pompidou's Cabinet and the Gaullist Union for a New Republic remained dominant with 12 of the 22 posts.

Pompidou, longtime confidant of President Charles de Gaulle, has no political affiliation. He gave up his job as general director of the Rothschild bank to take over from Debre.

Debre resigned Saturday after three years and three months as premier. This is a postwar record, but under the new French constitution it is much harder to topple a government than before.

Debre said he had felt free to step down since the basis of a settlement of the Algerian independence problem had been approved by the nation. De Gaulle warmly thanked the outgoing premier for his loyal efforts and wished him well.

There were reports, however, that the two men did not agree on the question of early parliamentary elections. Debre favored elections in May in view of De Gaulle's popularity because of the ending of the Algerian war. De Gaulle reportedly felt the present Assembly would carry on his program.

Pompidou brought in nine new ministers, but retained Debre's key men, including Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Interior Minister Roger Frey, Defense Minister Pierre Messmer, Finance Minister Valery Giscard D'Estaing and Louis Joxe, minister for Algerian affairs.

The most important additions were former Premier Pierre Pflimlin as minister of state for cooperation with African states; Maurice Schumann, national planning; and Gaston Palewski, scientific research.

Knowles Pickets Idle 550 Potters

Some 550 employes of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. were idled today as IBOP Local 9 picketed the entrances to the Newell plant in a dispute over the interpretation of the contract.

The dispute erupted Friday afternoon when some 40 kilnmen walked off their jobs, although the company said grievance procedures have not been exhausted.

The issue involves the seniority of two or three glost kiln placers which the company said it hired and gave its word the men were part of the basic work force. The company said the union contends the men are not part of the basic force and should be dismissed.

IN A LENGTHY statement, W. A. Harris, Knowles' president, declared IBOP officials should tell the workers to return to their jobs so a settlement can be reached.

Harris said he is willing to meet with union officers after picket lines are removed and work is resumed.

Harris pointed out the company has had no word from Brotherhood officials regarding the dispute, declaring: "I cannot understand the lack of interest of the Brotherhood officials in the welfare of over 500 of their own members."

IN HIS statement he recalled a similar case last year in the decorating warehouse, but said the worker involved still is on the payroll.

The union did not take the case to arbitration, which Harris said would have settled the issue once and for all.

Alaskans Cite Japanese In New Fishing Flareup

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — The captains of two Japanese fishing boats have been arrested on charges of poaching in the latest flareup in years of dissension over fishing by the Japanese in waters claimed by Alaska.

Alaska officials, headed by Capt. E. L. Mayfield of the state police, boarded the 65-foot herring catcher Ohtori Maru No. 5 Saturday night at the mouth of Uganik Bay in Shelikof Strait.

They arrested Captain Higashima Tadao on charges of fishing commercially without a license and not having registered his gear or boat.

The Ohtori Maru was escorted to Kodiak by the State Fish and Game Department vessel Teal and held under $25,000 bond.

The Ohtori Maru is one of five catcher boats which Alaska officials say have been taking herring in Shelikof Strait for about two weeks. They are accompanied by a 5,000-ton mother ship, the Banshu Maru, with 123 persons aboard.

Officers also arrested the captain of the Banshu Maru, Mongo M. Hanasaki, but did not seize his ship. Hanasaki was charged with fishing commercially without having notified the state.

Superior Court Judge Edward W. Davis flew here from Anchorage Sunday to arraign Tadao and Hanasaki. He released them to their vessels on their promise to return for a hearing.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the Taiyo Fisheries Co., which owns the vessels, said, "We have ordered the fleet to operate at least five miles off the coast of the United States, two miles outside

New Robbery Count Awaits Ex-Local Man

Stickup In Hancock Tavern Charged To James R. Jackson

A former city man who allegedly admitted the armed robbery of a Beaver County grocery store also has been charged with the holdup of a Hancock County tavern, according to West Virginia State Police.

Officers at the Weirton Barracks said James R. Jackson, 28, formerly of 611 College St., now of Weirton, has been charged with armed robbery of Johnny's Place along State Route 2, north of Weirton.

Pennsylvania State Police informed West Virginia State Police that Jackson admitted to robbing the tavern while being quizzed in connection with Wednesday's armed robbery of the Dawson Grocery on Route 168, near Laughlin's Corners.

The suspect has waived preliminary hearing before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton and has been bound over to the September Grand Jury of Hancock County Circuit Court.

Jackson was lodged in Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland today, apparently in lieu of bond.

State Police from Weirton said Johnny's Place was robbed of $72 on March 14. About $70 was obtained by a man who held up Mrs. Grace Dawson in the grocery store last Wednesday.

Jackson was arrested Friday in Weirton after officers traced a license number given by Mrs. Dawson. A check of Ohio registration revealed a car reportedly used in the grocery store robbery belonged to Jackson and gave the city address. He then was traced to the Weirton address.

The Ohtori Maru was escorted to Kodiak by the State Fish and Game Department vessel Teal and held under $25,000 bond.

The Ohtori Maru is one of five catcher boats which Alaska officials say have been taking herring in Shelikof Strait for about two weeks. They are accompanied by a 5,000-ton mother ship, the Banshu Maru, with 123 persons aboard.

Officers also arrested the captain of the Banshu Maru, Mongo M. Hanasaki, but did not seize his ship. Hanasaki was charged with fishing commercially without having notified the state.

Superior Court Judge Edward W. Davis flew here from Anchorage Sunday to arraign Tadao and Hanasaki. He released them to their vessels on their promise to return for a hearing.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for the Taiyo Fisheries Co., which owns the vessels, said, "We have ordered the fleet to operate at least five miles off the coast of the United States, two miles outside

New Robbery Count Awaits Ex-Local Man

A former city man who allegedly admitted the armed robbery of a Beaver County grocery store also has been charged with the holdup of a Hancock County tavern, according to West Virginia State Police.

Officers at the Weirton Barracks said James R. Jackson, 28, formerly of 611 College St., now of Weirton, has been charged with armed robbery of Johnny's Place along State Route 2, north of Weirton.

Pennsylvania State Police informed West Virginia State Police that Jackson admitted to robbing the tavern while being quizzed in connection with Wednesday's armed robbery of the Dawson Grocery on Route 168, near Laughlin's Corners.

The suspect has waived preliminary hearing before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton and has been bound over to the September Grand Jury of Hancock County Circuit Court.

Jackson was lodged in Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland today, apparently in lieu of bond.

State Police from Weirton said Johnny's Place was robbed of $72 on March 14. About $70 was obtained by a man who held up Mrs. Grace Dawson in the grocery store last Wednesday.

Jackson was arrested Friday in Weirton after officers traced a license number given by Mrs. Dawson. A check of Ohio registration revealed a car reportedly used in the grocery store robbery belonged to Jackson and gave the city address. He then was traced to the Weirton address.

Arraignments Now Slated For Thursday

LISBON — Arraignment for those indicted in the April term of Common Pleas Court has been postponed to Thursday, according to Norman Ward, assignment commissioner.

Originally scheduled for today the arraignments were postponed first to Wednesday.

Judge Joel H. Sharp will preside. Attorneys have been appointed for defendants unable to employ counsel.

City Boy Chosen As New Head Of Ohio's Key Clubs

Robert Gilmore, son of Drs. William and Edith Gilmore of Manor Ln., was elected governor at the state convention of Ohio Key Clubs Friday and Saturday at Cleveland.

James Lang, son of Atty. and Mrs. Francis H. Lang of Highland Colony, placed second in the oratorical contest. They were among 19 members of the East Liverpool High School club who attended. The club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Irvin J. (Dutch) Vorndran and Merrill Hall, both Kiwanians, accompanied the Key Club members. The meeting was held at the Pick-Carter Hotel in Cleveland. Gilmore was installed, along with other officers, at the closing banquet Saturday afternoon.

Gilmore, who was elected state secretary last year, has been the club's only member to be elected to a state office.

Yee said the only other income for the campaign besides the Easter Seal letters, will be the canisters which were placed in about 50 Midland stores. He said he will pick them up next Monday.

The Midland campaign is sponsored by the Midland Rotary Club for the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children, Inc.

in the basic work force shall be filled from the extra work force according to seniority.' These men were given our assurance that they were part of our basic work force.

"The 1960 agreement was signed seven months after these men were hired, namely on Dec. 1 1960. This new agreement and the only one in affect at this time, states in paragraph No. 7 that "in the last sentence of Section No. 2 of the 1959 supplemen under senioity, change the word 'shall' to the word 'may.' This still gives management the right to fill the basic work force.

THE MEN have challenged this contract change, stating that the companies agreed to release all men hired to fill the basic work force following the 1959 supplement. Some companies did this, but there was no agreement among the manufacturers that all would do so.

"We had replaced less than 20 people on our basic work force, and feel we are morally obligated to the five or six remaining on our plant, since we had given our word that they were part of the basic work force and since the contract permits us to keep them.

"Furthermore, both labor and management have always agreed at the beginning of any wage conference that only the written contract shall be binding. If the two parties to the agreement should at any time agree to change the written contract in any way, we will be happy to go along.

"IN THE SECOND place, the 1959 supplement spells out in detail a number of steps to be followed in all disputes. The first three steps have been followed, leaving two more to be taken. In line with step No. 3, our master shop committee met Friday morning before lunch along with a Mr. Noll, an organizer of the IBOP, and Mr. Leser, our plant superintendent.

"No agreement was reached. Mr. Noll advised he would get in touch with Mr. Wheatley or an officer of the Brotherhood which indicates he does not have the authority to make a final decision. We have never been told what authority he does have.

"When we had heard nothing from the IBOP office late Friday night, Mr. Leser tried to get Mr. Wheatley or another officer on the phone, and finally reached Mr. Slaven, one of the vice presidents, Saturday night. He advised that he thought Mr. Wheatley was in Baltimore. We understand Mr. Wheatley attended church in East Liverpool yesterday and yet has not seen fit to call us.

"THE FOURTH step in the grievance procedure states that the matter is to be referred to the international union officers and plant management. This apparently has not been done by the workers, although we have made an effort to do so.

"In the event the fourth step fails to reach a satisfactory settlement within 72 hours, then the international union officers and/or the employer shall be privileged to refer the matter to an arbitration committee. These last two steps have not been taken.

"The last paragraph regarding grievance procedures 'No. 10. No settlement will be recognized that has not been through the grievance procedures'."

"A SIMILAR case regarding seniority in our decorating warehouse came up last year and went through all the steps of the grievance procedure except the last one, which calls for arbitration. The man involved is still on our payroll. For some reason, the union did not take this case to arbitration which would have resolved this issue once and for all.

"We are anxious to have our 550 people back at work and ask them to return at once. As president of Knowles, I also will be happy to meet with an officer of the union in line with our written agreement after the picket lines are removed and the people return to work.

"I cannot understand the lack of interest of the Brotherhood officers in the welfare of over 500 of their own members. The walkout is illegal and the people should be told by them to return to work so that a settlement can be made."

the accepted territorial water boundary. We are confident no violation is involved."

Alleged poaching by Japanese fishermen has been a hot issue in Alaska for at least 25 years. In 1938, the Alaskan delegate in Congress, Anthony Dimond, even suggested that the United States bomb Japanese fishing boats in Alaska waters.

Gov. William A. Egan of Alaska said the strait "traditionally has been an inland body of water." He said it was regulated by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service before Alaska became a state.

Robert Gilmore, son of Drs. William and Edith Gilmore of Manor Ln., was elected governor at the state convention of Ohio Key Clubs Friday and Saturday at Cleveland.

James Lang, son of Atty. and Mrs. Francis H. Lang of Highland Colony, placed second in the oratorical contest. They were among 19 members of the East Liverpool High School club who attended. The club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Irvin J. (Dutch) Vorndran and Merrill Hall, both Kiwanians, accompanied the Key Club members. The meeting was held at the Pick-Carter Hotel in Cleveland. Gilmore was installed, along with other officers, at the closing banquet Saturday afternoon.

Gilmore, who was elected state secretary last year, has been the club's only member to be elected to a state office.

Yee said the only other income for the campaign besides the Easter Seal letters, will be the canisters which were placed in about 50 Midland stores. He said he will pick them up next Monday.

The Midland campaign is sponsored by the Midland Rotary Club for the Beaver County Society for Crippled Children, Inc.

in the basic work force shall be filled from the extra work force according to seniority.' These men were given our assurance that they were part of our basic work force.

"The 1960 agreement was signed seven months after these men were hired, namely on Dec. 1 1960. This new agreement and the only one in affect at this time, states in paragraph No. 7 that "in the last sentence of Section No. 2 of the 1959 supplemen under senioity, change the word 'shall' to the word 'may.' This still gives management the right to fill the basic work force.

THE MEN have challenged this contract change, stating that the companies agreed to release all men hired to fill the basic work force following the 1959 supplement. Some companies did this, but there was no agreement among the manufacturers that all would do so.

"We had replaced less than 20 people on our basic work force, and feel we are morally obligated to the five or six remaining on our plant, since we had given our word that they were part of the basic work force and since the contract permits us to keep them.

"Furthermore, both labor and management have always agreed at the beginning of any wage conference that only the written contract shall be binding. If the two parties to the agreement should at any time agree to change the written contract in any way, we will be happy to go along.

"IN THE SECOND place, the 1959 supplement spells out in detail a number of steps to be followed in all disputes. The first three steps have been followed, leaving two more to be taken. In line with step No. 3, our master shop committee met Friday morning before lunch along with a Mr. Noll, an organizer of the IBOP, and Mr. Leser, our plant superintendent.

"No agreement was reached. Mr. Noll advised he would get in touch with Mr. Wheatley or an officer of the Brotherhood which indicates he does not have the authority to make a final decision. We have never been told what authority he does have.

"When we had heard nothing from the IBOP office late Friday night, Mr. Leser tried to get Mr. Wheatley or another officer on the phone, and finally reached Mr. Slaven, one of the vice presidents, Saturday night. He advised that he thought Mr. Wheatley was in Baltimore. We understand Mr. Wheatley attended church in East Liverpool yesterday and yet has not seen fit to call us.

"THE FOURTH step in the grievance procedure states that the matter is to be referred to the international union officers and plant management. This apparently has not been done by the workers, although we have made an effort to do so.

"In the event the fourth step fails to reach a satisfactory settlement within 72 hours, then the international union officers and/or the employer shall be privileged to refer the matter to an arbitration committee. These last two steps have not been taken.

"The last paragraph regarding grievance procedures 'No. 10. No settlement will be recognized that has not been through the grievance procedures'."

"A SIMILAR case regarding seniority in our decorating warehouse came up last year and went through all the steps of the grievance procedure except the last one, which calls for arbitration. The man involved is still on our payroll. For some reason, the union did not take this case to arbitration which would have resolved this issue once and for all.

"We are anxious to have our 550 people back at work and ask them to return at once. As president of Knowles, I also will be happy to meet with an officer of the union in line with our written agreement after the picket lines are removed and the people return to work.

"I cannot understand the lack of interest of the Brotherhood officers in the welfare of over 500 of their own members. The walkout is illegal and the people should be told by them to return to work so that a settlement can be made."

Sure Beats Hole In The Ground

We feel sure Washington must have calculated the impact on the rest of us when it announced the existence of an airborne command post for President Kennedy. Like a ton of plutonium, enriched.

The impact is further compounded by the explanation that three of these specially fitted planes are standing ready at all times to whisk the chief executive and his staff up into the air 40,000 feet in the event of nuclear attack. That will take care of a lot of people, one way and another.

It sure beats a hole in the ground, which is what the rest of us are still glumly reconciled to entering in case of nuclear attack. It was bad enough when we were assured that a hole would be the lot of our chief executive and his entourage, too, — a far nicer hole to be sure, but still a hole.

Involuntary kinship with toads, moles, field mice, woodchucks, ferrets and snakes never did have any great appeal, not to mention the dire predictions that have been forthcoming recently that going to ground would be a sure-fire way to get roasted alive in a target area.

In truth, the only practical use for the hole-in-the ground theory of civil defense has turned out to be nominal protection from nuclear fallout if the target area was a safe distance away to windward. Even for that purpose it can't hold a Geiger counter to flying around at 40,000 feet in a airplane.

We now know where the safest place to be is—40,000 feet straight up. If we brood about this long enough we'll all think longingly about putting ourselves into a high orbit and staying there if the nuclear blasters go berserk. What we mean is staying there until the blasters have totally destroyed one another. It wouldn't take long.

Time goes so fast upstairs we'd never miss being away from the weary, cinder-black old earth for an aeon or two—upstairs time.

Unfair Charges

The unfairness that often marks the hurling of general charges was demonstrated again last week in the Civil Service Commission case.

The East Liverpool commission was one of nine attacked by the Ohio Public Employes Council No. 8 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes in a letter to the Ohio Personnel Board of Review at Columbus.

The local commission had the facts and figures with which to refute the principal charges directed against it, however.

The employes' council should be more careful in the future, as should other groups under similar circumstances. An unjustified blanket indictment represents an unwarranted and reckless abuse of power.

Shooting The Ace Of Spades

In space-age lore — the great open-space age, not the outer-space age — the fellow with the six-shooter sometimes gave his adversary a fighting chance to withdraw gracefully from the scene before the shooting began.

One setup that made a fine impression was to stick the ace of spades in a crack atop a fence post and shoot through the pip, drawing fast. After this demonstration of skill, the other fellow could forget his honor and ride away if he thought he was overmatched.

What we have now in the nuclear testing standoff is one last chance for the Soviet Union to withdraw before the United States starts to shoot in earnest. This country has been patient and long - suffering, standing by while Russian "bad men" shot the works last fall.

In all probability the Russian "bad men" will shoot the works again whenever they feel like it, so the United States isn't really hopeful of getting a truce. What it's really doing in the present instance is to put responsibility for further nuclear shooting on the Soviet Union.

The United States, Great Britain and presumptively, France, would prefer to have no more shooting, even though the Soviet Union obviously intends to shoot whenever it pleases. It is a weird war of nerves, in which nobody is shooting to kill but everybody is afraid of being killed.

Historians will find it hard to understand, unless they remember the space age—the great open-space age. Anyone fool-hardy enough to go up against a gunman who could hit the pip on the ace of spades, shooting from the hip, was foolhardy. There was only one exception.

If he could shoot through the same hole, the match was a draw. No more shots had to be fired. The Soviet Union shot out the pip last fall. The United States now is going to match its performance this spring — it hopes.

That's The Pricing System Too

Pulses quickened and eyes opened wider when unanimity failed to develop for the steel price increase.

This, too, is part of the pricing system in a free economy.

The United States is not a planned economy by either law or by nature. Collusion is hard to find.

What would-be planners and do-gooders would like to believe in is a profit system they can milk like a cow. What all of them learned at the bony knee of their preceptors — the Harold Ickeses and William Maynard Keyneses — is that the profit system exists for the benefit of politicians and when it fails to give milk must be taken over lock, stock and milk machine by the Seizers of socialism.

IN REALITY, of course, it's a profit-and-loss system — the bitter with the sweet.

People who gamble on their ability to show a profit do not throw in the sponge and ask Moscow for a planeload of socialist consultants if they show a loss. It can happen to the best of them.

The pricing system can move up or down or sideways.

A producer who moves up prices in such a way as to let a competitor undersell him at a profit is in for a bad time. This is one of the chances that must be taken in a privately managed economy.

Businessmen gamble continuously on the probability they will be right — against the possibility they may be wrong.

That's the system we live and work under, and isn't it curious that every so often we must learn about it all over again?

By Truman Twill

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Everything is peaceful here and we hope you are the same.

The terrible Russkies haven't blown up the world yet and neither, from the Russian point of view, have the "terrible Americans" blown it up.

We have a standoff, which is all we can expect under the circumstances. This is what that Texas general refers to as a "no-win" policy, because his preference is for blowing up the Russkies. I'd like that too if I knew how to do it — not to get rid of all the Russkies but to get rid of these Russkies aiming to get rid of me.

But I don't know how to do this. Neither does the Texas general, so we must be sure he never gets a chance to start something he can't finish.

The big new thing about the world we live in is that no one can knock over a major adversary and get away with it. The military game isn't worth the candle any more.

Now that I have made up my mind and your aunt has made up her mind about this, you can bet your nest egg across the board that nuclear war will break out, because we have a "no-win" record for prophecy. The thing that gives us the shakes is that the terrible Russkies have counterparts of our Texas general grousing about a "no-win" policy and if the mainland Chinese get their hands on the ultimate weapon they also will be tempted to think ultimately. Yowp!

But we'll let you worry about that.

Right now we're at no age to worry about anything. Even Texas generals do not loom large. Or should we say that the lilac buds loom larger?

We saw a trayful of peeps yesterday when we went to the store. And the barnyard was full of lambs at the Richards farm. The children in the allotment on the edge of town were flying kites.

High school boys and girls were walking hand in hand. I was so carried away by the whole thing I went into Morgans with my best girl and ordered a concoction that used to brighten up our Saturday nights — a coffee soda.

Steve Morgan has been dead 20 years but his boy Ed remembered how his old man made a coffee soda. It's easier now, thanks to soluble coffee. Mmm. On the way home we drove around by the sugar camp and strolled around for a half hour in a slow-motion version of a spring caper.

Remember our favorite motto: Non-carborundum — Don't let 'em grind you down.

They'll be dead as long as you'll be dead when it's time to go. Just hang in there and win all the brownie points you can pile up until spring brings as much peace to you as it has brought to us these last few days.

Sure, somebody will get us if we don't watch out. Bogeymen aren't a recent invitation. But non-carboprundum, boy. They can't grind us down if we won't be ground down, not even the terrible Russkies, who are just as scared of us as we are scared of them. We have experts in the war of nerves too.

That's all there is to report from Cotton Corners; there's no news. Your aunt and I are not brandishing a torch at the moment. We're just sitting here waiting for the daffodils to bloom, as they always have bloomed before. We can only hope they'll be as beautiful as before and that it will be our privilege to be on hand for the peonies, when it's their turn to bloom.

Give our regards to all the members of your family, scattered as they are. Tell them we think of them often and always with love.

The U. S. Post Office Department, when it initaited the use of motorized mail trucks in 1899, gave assurance to a skeptical public that "each is equipped so that a mule may be hitched to it, should it refuse to run".

Another Case Of Automation

Jimmy Hoffa Gets Around

By Victor Riesel

I discovered during my Arkansas travels that Jimmy Hoffa is an honorary sheriff in Little Rock. He received a special commission, a badge and some mighty kind words to prove it. These were handed him some weeks ago by a solicitous and felicitous official, Sheriff L. C. Young, of Pulaski County, Arkansas.

Victor Riesel

I will not ignore other honors draped around the teamster leader's shoulders. He now also is an official Arkansas Traveler. With this award, warmly handed him by a colleague of Gov. Faubus known as Arkansas' labor commissioner Clarence Thornbrough, comes a fine looking certificate.

Jimmy H's visit to Little Rock was a successful one indeed judging by the number of officials, including some federals from the Labor Department and Conciliation Service, who took a bow at the seafood cocktail-prime ribs of beef banquet in his honor.

I must hasten to assure you that the remaking of Hoffa's image is not confined to sheriff badges and complimentary certificates. He made it at Harvard University, too, some weeks later. There he spoke at the Law School Forum on Friday evening, March 30. Nor were his Cambridge hosts any less kind than his Arkansas friends.

THE HARVARD Law School Forum got up a mighty nice bit of promotion urging students not to rush home that night just because the spring recess began on the following Sunday. The Harvard Law School Forum news department pointed out that they had been trying to get Hoffa to talk to them for a long time — and that Jimmy is an exemplary fellow who does not smoke or drink. Why that should bring in the customers I don't know.

It was also pointed out that he is growing quite influential despite the many investigations. These probes, said the Forum people, "have been described by his supporters as, 'a persecution of the labor movement.' "

No one else was quoted — especially not Harvard's graduate, you know the chap, who made it to the White House and who did quite a bit of probing of Mr. Hoffa himself.

Mr. Hoffa, as a sort of one-man Madison Ave. constantly polishing up his "image," has been in front of more grapefruits, fruit cups and podiums than any other public figure.

NOT FOR LONG does this barnstorming, press conferencing, speechmaking, political machine building distract him from that drive which the public doesn't get to see on television.

And that is his push, and heavy financial expenditures, to weld the national office of the vast Teamsters Brotherhood into a central force potentially more powerful than any other private economic mechanism in the land.

At this he is doing very well — as those who will observe the next high command session of the teamsters will note.

He has scheduled his executive board to meet in Chicago on April 23. That's quite a wrench from his favorite Miami Beach.

At this board meeting Hoffa will probably tie up the loose ends of an operation which, in effect, will put domination of all the nation's trucking right inside the office of the president of the teamsters.

For some time now he has wanted that which they call technically over-the-road trucking and local carting (intracity) to be covered by one master contract. Years ago there were thousands of individual pacts made between the locals and the truck owners.

THEN GRADUALLY these were reduced to a handful in all sections except the "Eastern Conference" (sectional council). Not too long ago this group of unions reduced their contracts covering the same number of firms to 173.

Today the Eastern truckers are covered by 14 contracts. Soon this will be reduced to one.

Then, as Hoffa sees it, all regional pacts across the land will be merged into one master agreement. This will cover some 350,000 to 400,000 drivers.

This means that one national committee, naturally headed by Hoffa, will deal with one central committee of truck owners. They will be bargaining over trucking which truly is the food and industrial lifeline of the nation.

The master contract will have one expiration date for the entire country. Hoffa will be empowered by regional leaders to sign or to decide whether the nation's wheels are to be locked.

That, indeed, is power. He really will not need to fly around the land picking up sheriff badges.

It would be fascinating to hear what the Harvard economists and law professors think of that.

Corporate Indigestion

By James Marlow

Government Studies Big Steel Competition

WASHINGTON — Government specialists will now X-ray the corporate intestines of the steel industry which got indigestion from the way it chewed on a good, old-fashioned word like competition.

A federal grand jury, the Department of Justice and Congress will explore the industry's innards to determine whether it has a malignancy or needs an operation.

All within a week—in an almost incredibly inept performance which President Kennedy called greedy and ruthless—most of Big Steel raised prices and then unraised them.

One of the reasons given for the increase last Tuesday by Leslie B. Worthington, president of the U.S. Steel Corp. which set up price boosts, was that his company needed money to keep its steel mills efficient because that's the only way "to keep these facilities fully competitive."

The other companies in the industry, once U.S. Steel stuck its neck out with a price increase, could have given it murderous competition by not increasing their prices and underselling the giant.

Most of them did just the opposite. They raised by exactly the same amount as U.S. Steel. How did it happen? If it was all agreed on, the industry can be prosecuted by the government for conspiracy.

Or is U.S. Steel so dominant that the other companies must follow suit? Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says that if U.S. Steel controls prices, it may have to be broken up.

These are just two of the questions the various branches of government will examine in the months ahead.

Then one of the smaller companies, Inland Steel, whose board chairman, Joseph L. Block, is close to President Kennedy, refused to go along with the rest and said it would not raise prices.

It said that while prices might not be high enough, the national interest came first.

Then U.S. Steel and the others which had boosted prices because of competitive conditions — although they could hardly have been hurt by Inland's competition —suddenly put their prices back where they were.

Worthington gave this explanation:

"The decision (to unraise) was made in the light of competitive development and all other current circumstances, including the removal of a serious obstacle to proper relations between government and business."

So all within four days U.S. Steel said it had to raise prices because of competition and had to unraise prices because of competition.

But the true ineptness of the industry's performance was revealed in the last half of Worthington's statement about "other circumstances" and "relations with government."

It can be fairly asked: If these were major factors in steel's decision to unraise prices, why didn't they think of them before they did any raising at all?

The raising was done within five days after the Steelworkers' Union—following an appeal by Kennedy to both sides for a non-inflationary settlement—had signed a contract which gave some benefits but no pay increase.

The industry gave no hint or indication that, once it got the workers to agree to no raise, it intended to fatten its own pockets by raising prices. This alone would have been enough to ruin its labor relations for years.

But it was enough also to ruin its relations with the government and the public since the industry gave Kennedy no hint of a move which was bound to affect all prices and raise American living costs.

From a practical public relations standpoint—in its relations all around—the least it should have done was to wait a decent interval of some months before trying to put over a price increase.

It's unbelievable that the U.S. Steel board of directors, meeting within five days of the contract signing, suddenly became convinced a price rise, despite all its implications, was necessary.

That kind of flash decision would have been, for a giant industry, completely irresponsible, as Kennedy says it was anyway.

The Nixon Critics

By Raymond Moley

Old enemies never die. They merely refurbish their rusty weapons. And since Richard Nixon has been so well endowed with implacable critics, his new book, "Six Crises," has been combed for errors. One of these critics is apparently in the White House, for there was issued from that source a denial that when Candidate Kennedy stated in the 1960 campaign that action should be taken to overthrow Castro, he knew that preparations for such a revolt were already under way under the direction of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The issue raised here between Messrs. Nixon and Kennedy involves not only a grave matter of national policy but of fairness and responsibility in campaigning for the presidency. This matter also had a very significant bearing on the outcome of the campaign.

On Sept. 23, 1960 Mr. Kennedy gave an exclusive statement to the Scripps-Howard newspapers saying, "The forces fighting for freedom in exile and in the mountains of Cuba should be sustained and assisted."

Then, on Oct. 20 of the same year, he said, "We must attempt to strengthen the non-Batista democratic anti-Castro forces in exile, and in Cuba itself, who offer eventual hope of overthrowing Castro."

Mr. Nixon knew that such preparations for a revolution in Cuba were already secretly under way, and he also knew that his opponent had been briefed on all phases of foreign policy by Allen Dulles, chief of the CIA.

He therefore had no option but to believe that Mr. Kennedy was recklessly using that information to propose something which the Eisenhower administration was preparing.

Also he assumed that, since Castro also knew of the briefing of Mr. Kennedy, this disclosure would endanger the success of the whole operation and sacrifice the lives of those who were going to participate in the uprising.

SINCE ONE of the two candidates would soon be president, Castro would be informed of their intentions and get ready for the attack.

But before replying to the Kennedy statement, Mr. Nixon asked Interior Secretary Fred Seaton to go to the White House and find out if Mr. Kennedy had been informed of the secret operations. Seaton reported that the candidate had been so informed.

This put Mr. Nixon in a critical dilemma. If he joined in the Kennedy advocacy of intervention, which would have been very popular with the country, he would be implying that such preparations were under way, because he was known to have been a factor in making administration policy with regard to Cuba. Nor could he accuse his opponent of making public what had been communicated confidentially to him in the briefing. For that, too, would uncover the secret operation.

All he could do was to charge Mr. Kennedy with recklessness. Thus he was at a great disadvantage, since it made him seem to be "softer" on Castro than his opponent.

ALL THIS he revealed in his book. Then the White House on March 20, 1962 issued a statement that Mr. Kennedy did not know about the Cuban preparations when he made his statements in 1960. And Allen Dulles chimed in with a statement that there had been a "misunderstanding."

Mr. Nixon then issued a statement standing by his statement in the book and adding, "President Eisenhower has authorized me to state that, following the practice he had established in 1956, he had given instructions that in regard to U.S. intelligence operations abroad, Sen. Kennedy was to be as fully briefed on our foreign problems as I was."

If the critics of Mr. Nixon wish to be fair, which I doubt, they would turn this question back to Messrs. Kennedy and Dulles.

Did or did not Allen Dulles obey the orders of President Eisenhower and tell Mr. Kennedy about the most important Cuban preparations?

If so, why does Mr. Kennedy now deny that he knew what he was supposed to know? A matter of veracity is involved here, or at least a matter for clarification.

Those of us who write for the press are not hesitant about dishing out criticism of others. But we should in return admit the right of the objects of that criticism to criticize us.

To paraphrase Mr. Truman, if we can't stand the heat we had better get out of the kitchen.

Sure Beats Hole In The Ground

We feel sure Washington must have calculated the impact on the rest of us when it announced the existence of an airborne command post for President Kennedy. Like a ton of plutonium, enriched.

The impact is further compounded by the explanation that three of these specially fitted planes are standing ready at all times to whisk the chief executive and his staff up into the air 40,000 feet in the event of nuclear attack. That will take care of a lot of people, one way and another.

It sure beats a hole in the ground, which is what the rest of us are still glumly reconciled to entering in case of nuclear attack. It was bad enough when we were assured that a hole would be the lot of our chief executive and his entourage, too, — a far nicer hole to be sure, but still a hole.

Involuntary kinship with toads, moles, field mice, woodchucks, ferrets and snakes never did have any great appeal, not to mention the dire predictions that have been forthcoming recently that going to ground would be a sure-fire way to get roasted alive in a target area.

In truth, the only practical use for the hole-in-the ground theory of civil defense has turned out to be nominal protection from nuclear fallout if the target area was a safe distance away to windward. Even for that purpose it can't hold a Geiger counter to flying around at 40,000 feet in a airplane.

We now know where the safest place to be is—40,000 feet straight up. If we brood about this long enough we'll all think longingly about putting ourselves into a high orbit and staying there if the nuclear blasters go berserk. What we mean is staying there until the blasters have totally destroyed one another. It wouldn't take long.

Time goes so fast upstairs we'd never miss being away from the weary, cinder-black old earth for an aeon or two—upstairs time.

Unfair Charges

The unfairness that often marks the hurling of general charges was demonstrated again last week in the Civil Service Commission case.

The East Liverpool commission was one of nine attacked by the Ohio Public Employes Council No. 8 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes in a letter to the Ohio Personnel Board of Review at Columbus.

The local commission had the facts and figures with which to refute the principal charges directed against it, however.

The employes' council should be more careful in the future, as should other groups under similar circumstances. An unjustified blanket indictment represents an unwarranted and reckless abuse of power.

Shooting The Ace Of Spades

In space-age lore — the great open-space age, not the outer-space age — the fellow with the six-shooter sometimes gave his advisary a fighting chance to withdraw gracefully from the scene before the shooting began.

One setup that made a fine impression was to stick the ace of spades in a crack atop a fence post and shoot through the pip, drawing fast. After this demonstration of skill, the other fellow could forget his honor and ride away if he thought he was overmatched.

What we have now in the nuclear testing standoff is one last chance for the Soviet Union to withdraw before the United States starts to shoot in earnest. This country has been patient and long - suffering, standing by while Russian "bad men" shot the works last fall.

In all probability the Russian "bad men" will shoot the works again whenever they feel like it, so the United States isn't really hopeful of getting a truce. What it's really doing in the present instance is to put responsibility for further nuclear shooting on the Soviet Union.

The United States, Great Britain and presumptively, France, would prefer to have no more shooting, even though the Soviet Union obviously intends to shoot whenever it pleases. It is a weird war of nerves, in which nobody is shooting to kill but everybody is afraid of being killed.

Historians will find it hard to understand, unless they remember the space age—the great open-space age. Anyone fool-hardy enough to go up against a gunman who could hit the pip on the ace of spades, shooting from the hip, was foolhardy. There was only one exception.

If he could shoot through the same hole, the match was a draw. No more shots had to be fired. The Soviet Union shot out the pip last fall. The United States now is going to match its performance this spring — it hopes.

That's The Pricing System Too

Pulses quickened and eyes opened wider when unanimity failed to develop for the steel price increase.

This, too, is part of the pricing system in a free economy.

The United States is not a planned economy by either law or by nature. Collusion is hard to find.

What would-be planners and do-gooders would like to believe in is a profit system they can milk like a cow. What all of them learned at the bony knee of their preceptors — the Harold Ickeses and William Maynard Keyneses — is that the profit system exists for the benefit of politicians and when it fails to give milk must be taken over lock, stock and milk machine by the Seizers of socialism.

IN REALITY, of course, it's a profit-and-loss system — the bitter with the sweet.

People who gamble on their ability to show a profit do not throw in the sponge and ask Moscow for a planeload of socialist consultants if they show a loss. It can happen to the best of them.

The pricing system can move up or down or sideways.

A producer who moves up prices in such a way as to let a competitor undersell him at a profit is in for a bad time. This is one of the chances that must be taken in a privately managed economy.

Businessmen gamble continuously on the probability they will be right — against the possibility they may be wrong.

That's the system we live and work under, and isn't it curious that every so often we must learn about it all over again?

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Everything is peaceful here and we hope you are the same.

The terrible Russkies haven't blown up the world yet and neither, from the Russian point of view, have the "terrible Americans" blown it up.

We have a standoff, which is all we can expect under the circumstances. This is what that Texas general refers to as a "no-win" policy, because his preference is for blowing up the Russkies. I'd like that too if I knew how to do it — not to get rid of all the Russkies but to get rid of these Russkies aiming to get rid of me.

But I don't know how to do this. Neither does the Texas general, so we must be sure he never gets a chance to start something he can't finish.

The big new thing about the world we live in is that no one can knock over a major adversary and get away with it. The military game isn't worth the candle any more.

Now that I have made up my mind and your aunt has made up her mind about this, you can bet your nest egg across the board that nuclear war will break out, because we have a "no-win" record for prophecy. The thing that gives us the shakes is that the terrible Russkies have counterparts of our Texas general grousing about a "no-win" policy and if the mainland Chinese get their hands on the ultimate weapon they also will be tempted to think ultimately. Yowp!

But we'll let you worry about that.

Right now we're at no age to worry about anything. Even Texas generals do not loom large. Or should we say that the lilac buds loom larger?

We saw a trayful of peeps yesterday when we went to the store. And the barnyard was full of lambs at the Richards farm. The children in the allotment on the edge of town were flying kites.

High school boys and girls were walking hand in hand. I was so carried away by the whole thing I went into Morgans with my best girl and ordered a concoction that used to brighten up our Saturday nights — a coffee soda.

Steve Morgan has been dead 20 years but his boy Ed remembered how his old man made a coffee soda. It's easier now, thanks to soluble coffee. Mmm. On the way home we drove around by the sugar camp and strolled around for a half hour in a slow-motion version of a spring caper.

Remember our favorite motto: Non-carborundum — Don't let 'em grind you down.

They'll be dead as long as you'll be dead when it's time to go. Just hang in there and win all the brownie points you can pile up until spring brings as much peace to you as it has brought to us these last few days.

Sure, somebody will get us if we don't watch out. Bogeymen aren't a recent invitation. But non-carboprundum. boy. They can't grind us down if we won't be ground down, not even the terrible Russkies, who are just as scared of us as we are scared of them. We have experts in the war of nerves too.

That's all there is to report from Cotton Corners; there's no news. Your aunt and I are not brandishing a torch at the moment. We're just sitting here waiting for the daffodils to bloom, as they always have bloomed before. We can only hope they'll be as beautiful as before and that it will be our privilege to be on hand for the peonies, when it's their turn to bloom.

Give our regards to all the members of your family, scattered as they are. Tell them we think of them often and always with love.

Jimmy Hoffa Gets Around

By Victor Riesel

I discovered during my Arkansas travels that Jimmy Hoffa is an honorary sheriff in Little Rock. He received a special commission, a badge and some mighty kind words to prove it. These were handed him some weeks ago by a solicitous and felicitous official, Sheriff L. C. Young, of Pulaski County, Arkansas.

Victor Riesel

I will not ignore other honors draped around the teamster leader's shoulders. He now also is an official Arkansas Traveler. With this award, warmly handed him by a colleague of Gov. Faubus known as Arkansas' labor commissioner Clarence Thornbrough, comes a fine looking certificate.

Jimmy H's visit to Little Rock was a successful one indeed judging by the number of officials, including some federals from the Labor Department and Conciliation Service, who took a bow at the seafood cocktail-prime ribs of beef banquet in his honor.

I must hasten to assure you that the remaking of Hoffa's image is not confined to sheriff badges and complimentary certificates. He made it at Harvard University, too, some weeks later. There he spoke at the Law School Forum on Friday evening, March 30. Nor were his Cambridge hosts any less kind than his Arkansas friends.

THE HARVARD Law School Forum got up a mighty nice bit of promotion urging students not to rush home that night just because the spring recess began on the following Sunday. The Harvard Law School Forum news department pointed out that they had been trying to get Hoffa to talk to them for a long time — and that Jimmy is an exemplary fellow who does not smoke or drink. Why that should bring in the customers I don't know.

It was also pointed out that he is growing quite influential despite the many investigations. These probes, said the Forum people, "have been described by his supporters as, 'a persecution of the labor movement.'"

No one else was quoted — especially not Harvard's graduate, you know the chap, who made it to the White House and who did quite a bit of probing of Mr. Hoffa himself.

Mr. Hoffa, as a sort of one-man Madison Ave. constantly polishing up his "image," has been in front of more grapefruits, fruit cups and podiums than any other public figure.

NOT FOR LONG does this barnstorming, press conferencing, speechmaking, political machine building distract him from that drive which the public doesn't get to see on television.

And that is his push, and heavy financial expenditures, to weld the national office of the vast Teamsters Brotherhood into a central force potentially more powerful than any other private economic mechanism in the land.

At this he is doing very well — as those who will observe the next high command session of the teamsters will note.

He has scheduled his executive board to meet in Chicago on April 23. That's quite a wrench from his favorite Miami Beach.

At this board meeting Hoffa will probably tie up the loose ends of an operation which, in effect, will put domination of all the nation's trucking right inside the office of the president of the teamsters.

For some time now he has wanted that which they call technically over-the-road trucking and local carting (intracity) to be covered by one master contract. Years ago there were thousands of individual pacts made between the locals and the truck owners.

THEN GRADUALLY these were reduced to a handful in all sections except the "Eastern Conference" (sectional council). Not too long ago this group of unions reduced their contracts covering the same number of firms to 173.

Today the Eastern truckers are covered by 14 contracts. Soon this will be reduced to one.

Then, as Hoffa sees it, all regional pacts across the land will be merged into one master agreement. This will cover some 350,000 to 400,000 drivers.

This means that one national committee, naturally headed by Hoffa, will deal with one central committee of truck owners. They will be bargaining over trucking which truly is the food and industrial lifeline of the nation.

The master contract will have one expiration date for the entire country. Hoffa will be empowered by regional leaders to sign or to decide whether the nation's wheels are to be locked.

That, indeed, is power. He really will not need to fly around the land picking up sheriff badges.

It would be fascinating to hear what the Harvard economists and law professors think of that.

Corporate Indigestion

By James Marlow

Government Studies Big Steel Competition

WASHINGTON — Government specialists will now X-ray the corporate intestines of the steel industry which got indigestion from the way it chewed on a good, old-fashioned word like competition.

A federal grand jury, the Department of Justice and Congress will explore the industry's innards to determine whether it has a malignancy or needs an operation.

All within a week—in an almost incredibly inept performance which President Kennedy called greedy and ruthless—most of Big Steel raised prices and then unraised them.

One of the reasons given for the increase last Tuesday by Leslie B. Worthington, president of the U.S. Steel Corp. which set up price boosts, was that his company needed money to keep its steel mills efficient because that's the only way "to keep these facilities fully competitive."

The other companies in the industry, once U.S. Steel stuck its neck out with a price increase, could have given it murderous competition by not increasing their prices and underselling the giant.

Most of them did just the opposite. They raised by exactly the same amount as U.S. Steel. How did it happen? If it was all agreed on, the industry can be prosecuted by the government for conspiracy.

Or is U.S. Steel so dominant that the other companies must follow suit? Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says that if U.S. Steel controls prices, it may have to be broken up.

These are just two of the questions the various branches of government will examine in the months ahead.

Then one of the smaller companies, Inland Steel, whose board chairman, Joseph L. Block, is close to President Kennedy, refused to go along with the rest and said it would not raise prices.

It said that while prices might not be high enough, the national interest came first.

Then U.S. Steel and the others which had boosted prices because of competitive conditions — although they could hardly have been hurt by Inland's competition —suddenly put their prices back where they were.

Worthington gave this explanation:

"The decision (to unraise) was made in the light of competitive development and all other current circumstances, including the removal of a serious obstacle to proper relations between government and business."

So all within four days U.S. Steel said it had to raise prices because of competition and had to unraise prices because of competition.

But the true ineptness of the industry's performance was revealed in the last half of Worthington's statement about "other circumstances" and "relations with government."

It can be fairly asked: If these were major factors in steel's decision to unraise prices, why didn't they think of them before they did any raising at all?

The raising was done within five days after the Steelworkers' Union—following an appeal by Kennedy to both sides for a non-inflationary settlement—had signed a contract which gave some benefits but no pay increase.

The industry gave no hint or indication that, once it got the workers to agree to no raise, it intended to fatten its own pockets by raising prices. This alone would have been enough to ruin its labor relations for years.

But it was enough also to ruin its relations with the government and the public since the industry gave Kennedy no hint of a move which was bound to affect all prices and raise American living costs.

From a practical public relations standpoint—in its relations all around—the least it should have done was to wait a decent interval of some months before trying to put over a price increase.

It's unbelievable that the U.S. Steel board of directors, meeting within five days of the contract signing, suddenly became convinced a price rise, despite all its implications, was necessary.

That kind of flash decision would have been, for a giant industry, completely irresponsible, as Kennedy says it was anyway.

Steel

3. Broaden the antimerger laws, so that the same legal yardstick could be used to break up "existing large concentrations" as is now used to prevent certain proposed industrial mergers.

No companies were named, but the bills were plainly pointed at U.S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer and the one whose announcement last Tuesday of a boost touched off—as in the past—a parade of virtually identical increases by other firms.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had put the finger on U.S. Steel last week. In discussing the questions being explored by the Justice Department, he said one was whether "one company, namely U.S. Steel, so dominates the industry that it controls prices and should be broken up."

As the Sherman and Clayton antitrust laws now stand, the legal requirements for dismembering an existing corporation are much more difficult than those for preventing a merger which might tend to create a monopoly.

Gore's proposals, as he explained them, would make the latter requirements applicable in cases where the government seeks to force a split-up of a corporation which already has acquired monopolistic power.

The President's closest advisers said he wants no reprisals and hopes to preserve the good will and cooperation of business generally. Still, the administration was following through with the measures it set in motion to quash the steel price boost.

The Justice Department was pressing ahead with the federal grand jury investigation in New York which Atty. Gen. Kennedy ordered last Wednesday.

A multimillion-dollar order for high-grade steel that normally would have been divided between Lukens Steel Co. of Coatesville, Pa., and U.S. Steel apparently will go wholly to Lukens. U.S. Steel was crossed off after its price rise, and the Pentagon has made no move to change the decision.

The investigation ordered by the House Antimonopoly subcommittee headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., also was scheduled to open on May 2. But it appeared that Celler would let the Kefauver subcommittee do most of the ball-carrying.

Kennedy's stunning victory over the steel giants may have handed him the key to victories in some looming congressional battles, Capitol sources said. His prestige with Democratic members has soared.

Driver Cited, Woman Hurt In City Crash

A 55-year-old Midland woman was injured Saturday at 10:43 p. m. when the auto in which she was riding sheared off a city-owned utility pole and knocked down three guardrail posts on Pennsylvania Ave. at E. 4th St., police said.

Mrs. Velma Harmon, 469 Midland Ave., suffered a bump on the head in the crash of a 1955 model auto operated by Jesse Dickens, 54, of 365 Beaver Ave., Midland, police said.

Dickens was charged with reckless driving.

Entering a guilty plea to the citation, Dickens was fined $25 and costs this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Dickens told police the car went out of control because he "wasn't looking where he was going" as he drove east on the curve about 15 miles an hour. The crash damaged the front and right side of the auto, police said.

E. L. Wheatley of St. Clair Ave., president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, escaped injury in a collision on a Lisbon St. curve Sunday at 1:02 p. m., police said.

The crash involved Wheatley's southbound 1960 two-door sedan and a 1962 sedan operated by William H. Arnott, 27, of 624 Grant St., Newell, police said. Wheatley told police Arnott's northbound car "failed to negotiate the turn" and struck his auto.

A mishap Sunday at 6:13 p. m. at Lincoln Ave. and Smith St. involved a 1960 station wagon driven by Leo C. Weyrich, 37, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 and a 1962 two-door operated by Francis A. Tompkins, 44, of Toronto, officers said. Weyrich was turning off Smith onto Lincoln and Tompkins was turning from Lincoln onto Smith, officers said.

Three hit-skip mishaps were reported.

Chuck Kinsey of Dresden Ave. told police the left door of his 1950 two-door sedan was damaged sometime Sunday when struck in the parking lot of the Kin-Z-Bar on Dresden Ave., which he operates.

William C. Smith, 824 Riverview St., told police the left front headlight and grill of his 1959 two-door sedan were damaged about 2:05 p. m. Sunday when struck by a hit-skip vehicle while parked on Walnut St. Smith told police he saw a pickup pulling away from the scene.

Police Save Life Of Michigan Wife With Blood Relay

MORENCI, Mich. (AP)—Police agencies and hospitals in Michigan and Ohio combined forces late Sunday to save the life of a 41-year-old woman suffering from free bleeding after giving birth.

The woman gave birth to her third child, a 4-pound, 13-ounce daughter, about 4 p.m. But doctors were unable to stop her bleeding and found the Morenci area hospital's blood supply inadequate.

Walter Peeters, hospital administrator, said he notified state police and several hospitals in the area. A total of 12 pints of blood and several units of fibrinogen, a coagulant, were delivered during the next eight hours.

The blood and fibrinogen were contributed by the Lansing blood bank and hospitals in Ann Arbor, Hillsdale and Adrian, Mich., and Napoleon, Ohio, and brought here in police car relays.

Lisbon Patrol Checks 2 Weekend Accidents

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol investigated two minor traffic crashes over the weekend, including one Saturday night at 7 at Cannons Mills.

The area crash involved cars operated by Margaret J. McIntosh, 35, of 746 Sophia St. and Erwin W. Sattler, 29, of Rogers R. D. 1.

The patrol said the city woman pulled onto Route 30 from a side road and started a left turn. Sattler, drivving west on Route 30, swerved and struck the city woman's car broadside, the patrol said. The mishap was a mile south of the junction with Route 7. Neither driver was injured and no charges were filed.

The patrol also investigated a two-car crash Sunday on Route 14 near Salem, involving drivers from Salem. No one was hurt and no arrests were made.

NEGLEY — Seven fire departments participated in the burning of the old Youngstown & Southern Railroad depot here Sunday afternoon.

Some 1,000 gathered to watch the operation, according to Fire Chief Don Mahon. The depot, which was used many years as a Post Office, was built shortly after the Civil War.

The firemen received permission from the railroad to raze the building. Participating were departments from Negley, East Palestine, Rogers, South Beaver Township, Lisbon, White Township in Beaver County and Columbiana.

Driver Cited, Woman Hurt In City Crash

A 55-year-old Midland woman was injured Saturday at 10:43 p. m. when the auto in which she was riding sheared off a city-owned utility pole and knocked down three guardrail posts on Pennsylvania Ave. at E. 4th St., police said.

Mrs. Velma Harmon, 469 Midland Ave., suffered a bump on the head in the crash of a 1955 model auto operated by Jesse Dickens, 54, of 365 Beaver Ave., Midland, police said.

Dickens was charged with reckless driving.

Entering a guilty plea to the citation, Dickens was fined $25 and costs this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Dickens told police the car went out of control because he "wasn't looking where he was going" as he drove east on the curve about 15 miles an hour. The crash damaged the front and right side of the auto, police said.

E. L. Wheatley of St. Clair Ave., president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, escaped injury in a collision on a Lisbon St. curve Sunday at 1:02 p. m., police said.

The crash involved Wheatley's southbound 1960 two-door sedan and a 1962 sedan operated by William H. Arnott, 27, of 624 Grant St., Newell, police said. Wheatley told police Arnott's northbound car "failed to negotiate the turn" and struck his auto.

A mishap Sunday at 6:13 p. m. at Lincoln Ave. and Smith St. involved a 1960 station wagon driven by Leo C. Weyrich, 37, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 and a 1962 two-door operated by Francis A. Tompkins, 44, of Toronto, officers said. Weyrich was turning off Smith onto Lincoln and Tompkins was turning from Lincoln onto Smith, officers said.

Three hit-skip mishaps were reported.

Chuck Kinsey of Dresden Ave. told police the left door of his 1950 two-door sedan was damaged sometime Sunday when struck in the parking lot of the Kin-Z-Bar on Dresden Ave., which he operates.

William C. Smith, 824 Riverview St., told police the left front headlight and grill of his 1959 two - door sedan were damaged about 2:05 p. m. Sunday when struck by a hit-skip vehicle while parked on Walnut St. Smith told police he saw a pickup pulling away from the scene.

Police Save Life Of Michigan Wife With Blood Relay

MORENCI, Mich. (AP)—Police agencies and hospitals in Michigan and Ohio combined forces late Sunday to save the life of a 41-year-old woman suffering from free bleeding after giving birth.

The woman gave birth to her third child, a 4-pound, 13-ounce daughter, about 4 p.m. But doctors were unable to stop her bleeding and found the Morenci area hospital's blood supply inadequate.

Walter Peeters, hospital administrator, said he notified state police and several hospitals in the area. A total of 12 pints of blood and several units of fibrinogen, a coagulant, were delivered during the next eight hours.

The blood and fibrinogen were contributed by the Lansing blood bank and hospitals in Ann Arbor, Hillsdale and Adrian, Mich., and Napoleon, Ohio, and brought here in police car relays.

The patrol said the city woman pulled onto Route 30 from a side road and started a left turn. Stattler, drivving west on Route 30, swerved and struck the city woman's car broadside, the patrol said. The mishap was a mile south of the junction with Route 7. Neither driver was injured and no charges were filed.

Ohio Man Admits Wholesale Thefts In Past 3 Years

CINCINNATI (AP)—County police dug into the job today of tracking down owners of a mountain of items apparently stolen over the past three years and valued at more than $100,000.

It took 10 truck trips Sunday to bring the things to a large county warehouse from the suburban Brentwood home of James A. McCombs, 45, a General Electric Co. employe.

Carl Meyer, chief county investigator, said McCombs at first denied taking the items found in his home, but later admitted he couldn't stop taking the things.

McCombs faced two charges of grand larceny.

County detectives had stopped McCombs early Suday after noting the pipe in his car. That led to his home where they saw other items.

The detectives found groceries, tools, sweepers, eyeglasses, silk stockings, bicycles, tricycles, tables, mowers, sleds, beds, ladders, chairs and other things, some still in cartons and wrappings, they said.

$300,000 Blaze Rips Ohio Power Structure

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Work was expected to begin today to topple walls of a fire-gutted Ohio Power Co. office building here.

The blaze completely gutted the inside of the 3½ story brick building early Sunday, causing an estimated $300,000 loss.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than five hours and were able to keep the flames from adjoining buildings where residents of several apartments were evacuated. However, there was smoke and water damage in the neighboring businesses.

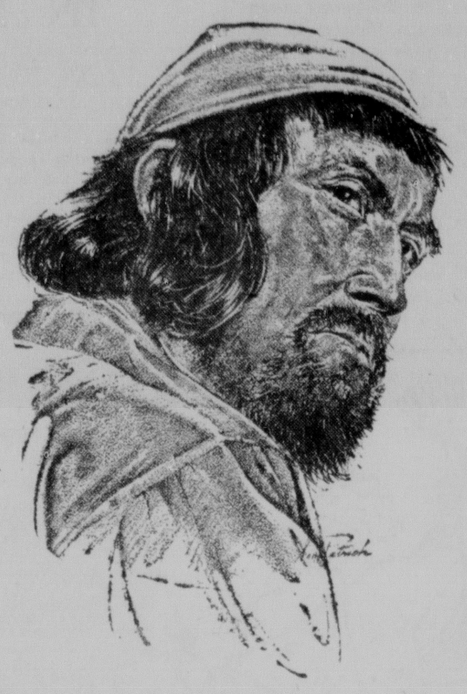

One fireman was injured, suffering a broken foot when he was caught in a tower ladder which was being lowered.

Cause of the fire was unknown. The building housed the regional offices of the Ohio Power Co.

They Walked With Christ

THOMAS

"Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe."
—John XX:25

Thomas, called Didymus, which signifies a twin, has come to be known as the embodiment of man's doubt.

Although he readily became one of the disciples of Jesus, he was never fully aware of the Master's real identity and power.

Countless times Thomas had witnessed Jesus' answers to all the questions put Him by a curious multitude. He had witnessed the miracles, and had heard Jesus say, "Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God."

But believing came hard to Thomas. The doubting apostle evidently regarded Jesus as a man with unusual powers of suggestion, by which He controlled the minds of others, and consequently their bodies.

He remained quietly observant during the days of his association with Jesus. Secretly, he was convinced that a logical, reasoning mind would require more proof than a Carpenter would be able to provide that He and God were one, and that He spoke the truth.

To Thomas, Truth was what could be known, not something deeply intuited or inwardly sensed and experienced.

He was not satisfied even with the testimony of his eyes and his ears. He had to add the proof of his hands as well.

He never learned the great spiritual truth—that a man cannot see what he does not believe.

All the while that Jesus talked of His Kingdom to come, a Kingdom "not of this world," Thomas dreamed of a tangible, substantial, political realm on earth.

It is not surprising then, that although he had once asserted that he was ready to die for his Master, when he saw the soldiers coming up the hillside, with their armour and weapons gleaming in the light of torches, he turned and fled with the others.

When his friends brought him the joyful news that Jesus had indeed risen from the dead as He said He would, Thomas refused to believe it until he had felt the Savior's wounds.

Said Jesus: "Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed."

Fewer Claims Filed By Area Unemployed

Only one new claim under the federal program was received along with 63 continuing claims, Dinsmore said, while the regular program had 70 initial claims and 375 continuing.

They are: Hugh Smith, president; Wayne Wallace, vice president; Mrs. Chester Proffitt, secretary, and Mrs. Robert McPherson, treasurer.

Devotions were led by faculty members and James Kessell, janitor, read Scripture. The Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance were given in unison. The national anthem was sung.

The group decided to purchase a set of encyclopedias and the Board of Education will match it. It was announced that a new American flag for outside use has been purchased by the PTA.

A committee comprised of Mrs. Tom Lewis, Mrs. Sterling Jenkins, Mrs. Clarence Francis and Mrs. McPherson was appointed to arrange for a school picnic June 1. The attendance banner was won by William Crihfield's pupils.

Hubert Lawrence, county psychologist, spoke on the testing program in the four rural grade schools. Seventh and eighth grade pupils gave a preview of the play, "Never a Dull Moment," which they will present Wednesday to raise funds for a trip to Washington.

Lunch was served by the second, third and fifth grade homeroom mothers.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 33 and I feel like 102. I walk around half dead and I need some advice before I crack up.

Virgil falls asleep the minute his head hits the pillow. He never hears the children calling for a glass of water, naturally—what father does? He is deaf to the alarm clock, the fire engines, police sirens — everything.

I sleep very poorly — that is, once I get to sleep. Then I'm up half the night fighting for a corner of the bed and a little patch of blanket. Virgil thrashes around, takes his half of the bed out of the middle, and some nights I don't average three hours sleep.

I've begged Virgil to let me buy twin beds. He says absolutely not. He says a double bed is the cornerstone of a good marriage. What do YOU say?—HALF DEAD.

Dear Half: Tell Virgil a double bed may be the cornerstone but exhaustion could be the tombstone.

I strongly recommend twin beds with a single headboard. You use one bedspread and it looks like a double bed when made up, but each twin bed has its own sheets and blankets.

P.S.: I hope you enjoy your new furniture.

Exploited Employes

Dear Ann: What do you think of a woman who is wealthy enough to employ two maids, a cook, a laundress and a chauffeur, yet she buys two grades of canned goods, one for the help and one for the family. When they have steak for dinner the help gets hamburger, beef liver or spaghetti.

The employes must buy their own uniforms, and Madame tells them where to buy them and how much to spend. This woman is very active in fancy charities and every other week she "asks" her employe to purchase raffle tickets and chances on mink coats, cruises and whatnot.

Any comment? — OVERWORKED AND UNDERPAID.

Dear Overworked and Underpaid: Few things are less attractive than a well-to-do woman who exploits her employes. But one of those things is the employe who accepts the abuse and stays in her employ and complains to anyone who has two ears and will listen.

This woman sounds terrible. If you had any self respect you'd leave.

Available Bachelor

Dear Ann: I'm a new guy in town, age 27, steady job, '60 convertible, and not hard to look at. I like to dance, swim, bowl, play tennis and I sing a little, too.

It's tough to meet the right people when you're new in town. You must get letters from gals who are also newcomers and who are finding it rough to meet people, Ann. Think of all the good you could do if you would put people like us together. You might even help me find my dream girl.

Please don't tell me to join a church group. I tried that in the last town and every one of those creeps has a crooked hem or a man's haircut. Thanks. — NEW MAN.

Dear Man: I never put people in touch through this column. True, I might be able to do some good, but I know I could do plenty of harm.

And besides, how can I tell from a letter who has a crooked hem or a man's haircut? Find "dream girl" on your own, Bub.

TO EMBARRASSED: Why must you answer every question put to you by this tasteless clod? Simply say you don't wish to discuss your personal affairs.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems, send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Strike Continues At Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP)—This city was without its two regular daily newspapers again today, following an announcement Sunday night that neither the morning Free Press nor the afternoon News would attempt to publish a Monday edition.

And there were indications that neither of the city's newspapers would have presses rolling again until settlement of a contract dispute with the Teamsters Union.

Detroit News executives announced Sunday night they were laying off employes in several departments, except for a limited number which were told to report for work.

The action was similar to that taken by Free Press executives, who posted layoff notices earlier.

A combined News-Free Press Sunday edition, published Sunday, was the first newspaper delivered to subscribers of either since the Teamsters struck the Free Press last Wednesday night.

The chief hope for a break in the situation appeared to hinge on a scheduled meeting Tuesday night of rank and file members of Teamsters Local 372, which represents circulation department employes at both papers.

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, who joined the negotiations over the weekend, said Local 372 members will hear details of a new contract offer by the News.

Hoffa's union has struck only the Free Press but the News has not published because of an agreement that a strike against one newspaper is considered to be a strike against both.

Schools Require 'Drop Out' Help, Official Declares

CLEVELAND (AP)—The number of students dropping out of school is increasing, but it doesn't mean schools are doing a poor job, says the director of a group studying the problem.

"It's a problem of numbers and is related to the general population explosion," said Herbert E. Salinger, executive secretary of President Kennedy's Committee on Youth Unemployment.

"Schools just can't contain the quantity of students they could in the past," he declared Sunday on KYW-TV's "Open Circuit."

To overcome what he called a critical situation will require money and changes in school curricula, he said, noting the solution won't be easy because the "problem of numbers will get worse."

What should schools do to keep their students?

Salinger said it was important for parents, school officials and government to persuade students to stay in school and prepare themselves for jobs.

Farm Groups Promote Foreign Trade Markets

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government and cooperating farm trade groups are using a wide range of advertising schemes and gimmicks to develop broader foreign markets for agricultural products.

The techniques being used include surveys and studies of market potentials and needs; advertising campaigns; promotional contests, including public appearances of "maids" and "queens"; merchandising clinics; samples for display and testing; translation, printing and distributing promotional and educational leaflets; motion pictures, film clips and slides; nutrition and sanitation education; studies of consumer demand; training bakers and technicians; cooking demonstrations and school lunch assistance.

Agricultural Department cooperation with industry is authorized by the Agricultural Trade Development Act, otherwise known as the Food for Peace Program. The department is authorized to use a part of the receipts obtained from sale of surplus farm products for this purpose.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frozen vetetables are setting the pace for the nation's booming frozen food industry.

An Agriculture Department report shows that in 1941, the average American consumed an annual average of only seven-tenths of a pound of frozen vegetables. By 1961, this had increased to about 11 pounds per person.

During this 20-year period, the freezing industry boosted its annual production from 106 million to 2.2 billion pounds.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Agricultural Service reports imports of most livestock and livestock products are rising this year.

Imports of red meats during the first two months of this year were 53 per cent larger than a year earlier, with most of the increase being in beef and veal. Receipts of lamb, on the other hand, were down 17 per cent.

Wool receipts from abroad were up 7 per cent, cattle 19 per cent and variety meats 53 per cent.

Joe's All-Stars Top Billiards For Tri-State Crown

Akron Five Chalks Up 93-83 Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

After an absence of five years, Joe's All-Stars of Akron, a big, strong squad, returned to the winner's circle in the 37th annual tri-state tournament Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium with a 93-83 victory over American Billiards of East Liverpool.

The last time Joe's walked off with the crown was 1956. In between that time Gengarella's of Midland had won four out of five times, but failed to enter a team this year to defend its title won in 1961.

To gain the finals, Joe's walloped George Bright's, 90-65, while American Billiards shoved Pisanello's Pizza of Alliance aside, 73-56.

ONLY a handful of fans, less than 200, was on hand to see the championship battle.

Joe's led at halftime, 44-36, but didn't pull away until the last eight minutes. At one time in the second half American Billiards came within three points, but failed to get any closer.

Pete McCafferty, a former college star at Loyola of Chicago, rattled the hoops in the championship game with 26 points and was named the most valuable player in the tourney.

McCAFFERTY was joined in the double figure column by four other teammates including Jerry Wolf, an ex-Ohio U. standout who fired in 14, and Leon Hill with 13.

The Akron team was made up mostly of Goodyear players who performed all season in the National Industrial League.

The top performance in the championship battle was turned in by Midland's Herb Lake, who scored 31 points and dropped in nine of 11 foul shots.

Lake was deadly from inside the foul line and kept the Billiard five in contention. Simirich tallied 17 points, while John Riser added 12.

"Jumpin Joe" Richards led the way in the semi-final battle for American Billiards with 22 points. Tom Schaffer and Jim Irons tied for honors with 14 each as Pisanello's Pizza bowed out.

Instead of picking an all-tournament team this year, the tournament committee, headed by Clarence Moore and Dick Betteridge, decided to present a gold wrist watch to the outstanding player of each team to reach the semi-finals.

Lake grabbed high point honors for the tourney with 68 in three games.

A special trophy was presented to Ollie Rankin, the self - styled All-American and crowd pleaser. Rankin broke into the scoring column with four points in the semi-final round, playing with American Billiards, then uncorked a nine-point performance in the championship battle.

2 Take Tourney Lead

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A Barberton pair took the lead in the doubles handicap division of the Ohio Men's Bowling Tournament here this weeekend—the only change in the leaders. The combo—Bill Murphy and Pete Jillling—posted a 1420 to push Paul and Willard Fox to second place in the standings.

Sines Resigns Cage Post At Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — John Sines has resigned as University of Tennessee basketball coach.

Sines, who had held the position for the past three years, handed in his resignation Sunday.

Sines said he has accepted a position with a mutual investment firm.

"I've been coaching since I graduated from Purdue in 1938," Sines said, "and I have no more security now than I had when I started. When this business opportunity outside coaching came along, it was too good for me to turn down."

Bases Full won the Rancocas Stakes at Garden State Park in Camden, N. J., in 1959. In 1961 Batter Up was the winner.

Hawks Blank Toronto, 3-0

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Having won what they consider was the "big one," the Chicago Black Hawks have visions of successfully defending their Stanley Cup championship following a 3-0 home ice victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

"The longer the series goes, the better chance we have," said Hawk Coach Rudy Pilous.

"We're still winning," claimed Toronto Coach Punch Imlach after his Maple Leafs' advantage in the best-of-seven series had been cut to 2-1 by the hard-checking Hawks.

Before the contest ended, the Hawks scored twice in the second period on goals by Stan Mikita and Ab McDonald and added another in the final minute when Bronco Horvath put one into the unguarded Toronto net.

Coach Appointed

Nine Crack Teams Are Assembled

A small field, but possibly the strongest ever put together here, will start firing in the 14th annual Junior Basketball Tournament Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Nine crack outfits from a three-state area will seek the title in the tourney sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The tournamnet will be held Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

To make the field even stronger, two outstanding teams came in at the last minute. They were Gip's All-Stars of Pittsburgh, a team which captured the Junior Tournament at New Castle earlier this month, and Miner's Tavern, which will be made up of the Salem varsity along with several players from Liberty High School.

Gip's All-Stars will be led here by Fleming Reynolds of Fifth Ave., High School in Pittsburgh and Bob Bennett, who has been a two - year standout for Don Black's Mt. Lebanon team. Reynolds was also accorded most valuable player honors in the New Castle tourney.

ONE TEAM — Canton Lincoln—which was to have played under the colors of American Billiards was not permitted by that school to play in the tourney because of eligiblity reasons. However, the Billiard five will show a lineup of players from the Martins Ferry and Flushing area.

Four games are scheduled the first night and all contestants are well matched.

The first game will get under way at 7 with Gip's playing American Billiards.

THE SECOND contest looks like the best of the evening when Miner's faces Freed's. It will be Salem High playing for Miner's against a combination from Steubenville Big Red and Weirton High.

In the 9 p. m. game, Eason's Insurance, with some of the top Class "A" players from the Conotton Valley and Canton areas, will meet Riverview Florists, which sports a lineup of Youngstown South performers.

Gengarella's will take the floor in defense of its crown at 10 and is favored over Buck's Grocery of New Cumberland, which consists of this year's New Cumberland varsity.

GENGARELLA'S has some outstanding high school talent, led by Don Yates, the 6-foot-3 whiz from Uniontown, who was proclaimed by many as the outstanding player in Pennsylvania scholastic basketball this past season.

Along with Yates is Don "The Stilt" Spires of Stanton Local, Bob Ashton, 6-foot-8 pivot star from Carnegie, Pa., Midland's Al Aloi, Ron Jeter and Dick Dyer of Aliquippa and Huck Steffen and Jack Deshler of East Liverpool.

The ninth team in the tourney is Shontz and Myers of Sharon, which drew a bye in the opening round. The team is comprised of Sharon and Hickory High School players.

Here's Tuesday's Junior Tourney Card

7—Gip's All-Stars (Pittsburgh) vs. American Billiards (ELO)

8—Freed's (ELO) vs. Miner's Tavern (Kensington)

9—Eason's (ELO) vs. Riverview Florists (ELO)

10—Gengarella's (Midland) vs. Buck's Grocery (New Cumberland)

Angels, Orioles, Chisox Triumph

Sophomore jinx? Boston's Don Schwall isn't having any, thank you, though the figures show otherwise.

"Nonsense," the 1961 American League Rookie of the Year shrugged after his second straight loss Sunday, 5-1 to the Orioles in the first game of a doubleheader at Baltimore. The Red Sox won the second 5-4.

"I don't believe in any jinx," the tall right-hander said. "I know that sometimes you get more breaks than others. Over a full season, they usually even up for everyone."

He hasn't had much help so far this season. Schwall, who had a 15-7 record with the sixth-place Red Sox last season, was beaten 4-0 in the opener this year. Army Pvt. Steve Barber handcuffed Boston Sunday.

Los Angeles' surprising Angels gained sole control of the top spot at the end of the first week's play, taking the Twins 6-3 at Minnesota. Chicago blasted the A's 8-3 at Kansas City. New York at Detroit was postponed by cold weather, and the Washington at Cleveland doubleheader was postponed because of snow.

Only rampaging rookie Rich Rollins bothered Los Angeles' Eli Grba. Rollins, who is hitting .533, accounted for all the Twins runs with a three-run homer, his third, in the ninth. Bulky Steve Bilko crashed two homers and Leon Wagner one for the Angels as they took a half-game lead atop the standings. Grba allowed nine hits, but was supported by four double plays.

Schwall allowed only three hits and struck out eight in seven innings, but was plagued with lack of control, walking seven.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Junior Tourney Opens Tuesday With Powerful Field

Akron Five Chalks Up 93-83 Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

After an absence of five years, Joe's All-Stars of Akron, a big, strong squad, returned to the winner's circle in the 37th annual tri-state tournament Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium with a 93-83 victory over American Billiards of East Liverpool.

The last time Joe's walked off with the crown was 1956. In between that time Gengarella's of Midland had won four out of five times, but failed to enter a team this year to defend its title won in 1961.

To gain the finals, Joe's walloped George Bright's, 90-65, while American Billiards shoved Pisanello's Pizza of Alliance aside, 73-56.

ONLY a handful of fans, less than 200, was on hand to see the championship battle.

Joe's led at halftime, 44-36, but didn't pull away until the last eight minutes. At one time in the second half American Billiards came within three points, but failed to get any closer.

Pete McCafferty, a former college star at Loyola of Chicago, rattled the hoops in the championship game with 26 points and was named the most valuable player in the tourney.

McCAFFERTY was joined in the double figure column by four other teammates including Jerry Wolf, an ex-Ohio U. standout who fired in 14, and Leon Hill with 13.

The Akron team was made up mostly of Goodyear players who performed all season in the National Industrial League.

The top performance in the championship battle was turned in by Midland's Herb Lake, who scored 31 points and dropped in nine of 11 foul shots.

"Jumpin Joe" Richards led the way in the semi-final battle for American Billiards with 22 points. Tom Schaffer and Jim Irons tied for honors with 14 each as Pisanello's Pizza bowed out.

Instead of picking an all-tournament team this year, the tournament committee, headed by Clarence Moore and Dick Betteridge, decided to present a gold wrist watch to the outstanding player of each team to reach the semi-finals.

Lake grabbed high point honors for the tourney with 68 in three games.

A special trophy was presented to Ollie Rankin, the self - styled All-American and crowd pleaser. Rankin broke into the scoring column with four points in the semi-final round, playing with American Billiards, then uncorked a nine-point performance in the championship battle.

2 Take Tourney Lead

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A Barberton pair took the lead in the doubles handicap division of the Ohio Men's Bowling Tournament here this weeekend—the only change in the leaders. The combo—Bill Murphy and Pete Jillling—posted a 1420 to push Paul and Willard Fox to second place in the standings.

Five Midland athletes were honored when the Midland Boosters Club held its second annual "Appreciation Night" Sunday at the CIO Hall.

Two hundred turned out for the dinner, which paid special tribute to the undefeated 1961-62 basketball team.

Four starters from Coach Hank Kuzma's crack outfit were presented with awards, while a baseball player was singled out for outstanding scholastic ability.

PICKED as most valuable player was Al Aloi, the team's leading scorer this past season. Aloi was unable to be present for the banquet.

Honored as best defensive player was Rich Lake, a stellar guard. Sam Forester, a tireless rebounder and steady scorer, was named the hardest worker on the squad. The trophy for the most improved was won by Bill Sallis, another fine rebounder who occasionally wound up as high point man for Midland throughout the campaign.

The award for the best athlete, scholastically, was presented to Rick Davis, a member of the baseball squad.

ALONG with the trophy awards, the Boosters Club presented eight lettermen and the coaching staff with wrist watches. The lettermen included Forester, Aloi, Sallis, Lake, George Drakulich, Steve Trbovich, Earl Vaughn and Harry Petroskey.

Mayor Eli Corak gave the welcome, while Jim (Sonny) Migliore, Booster Club president, spoke briefly. The invocation was given by Dr. Ralph Jewell, superintendent of Midland schools.

The Boosters Club will hold its annual election of officers at the next meeting May 6.

Pirates Continue Among Unbeaten

Cincinnati's Frank Robinson and Milwaukee's Henry Aaron, a pair of slumbering giants, awoke with a roar Sunday and as a result the Reds and Braves were breathing a litttle easier today.

The Braves won their first game of the year, beating the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3, and the Reds snapped a five-game losing streak, inflicting the first defeat upon the San Francisco Giants, 4-3. Bob Purkey, only Cincinnati pitcher to win so far, registered his second triumph.

In the only other National League game, Pitttsburgh defeated New York 7-2. Rain forced the postponement of the second game of the scheduled Pirates-Mets doubleheader.

Rain also wiped out the scheduled doubleheader betweeen Houston and the Phillies in Philadelphia. Cold weather was responsible for calling off the single contest scheduled between St. Louis and the Cubs in Chicago.

Through the first six games, opposing pitchers had held Robinson, the National League's Most Valuable Player last year, to four hits in 24 times at bat and no runs battted in. The Reds lost five of the first six. Robby drove in his first run and scored another in the Reds' one-run triumph over the Giants.

Aaron's plight was even worse than that of Robinson. Henry had been held to one hit in 18 tries after five games. The Braves lost all five. He smashed three hits, one a home run, Sunday and drove in two runs to lead the Braves' 10-hit attack against loser Sandy Koufax and Pete Richert.

Bob Hendley, a southpaw, went the route for Milwaukee, yielding five hits and striking out eight.

Wheeling Has Tentative Berth In United League

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The year-old United Football League has tentatively grown to eight teams but will end its expansion program when 12 teams are in the loop.

The decision was announced here Sunday at the closing session of a two-day league meeting.

UFL Commissioner George T. Gareff said, "Operating with 12 te ns we are certain there will be enough good players to maintain league balance."

The UFL had six teams during its initial season last year—Akron, Cleveland, Columbus, Grand Rapids, Indianapolis and Louisville. Since then Chicago has entered the league and Wheeling, W. Va., won a tentative berth Saturday, pending securing an acceptable playing site.

Gareff said the action to limit the league was taken in response to franchise requests from Atlanta, Chattanooga, Des Moines, Harrisburg, Nashville, Rochester and South Bend.

Also at the Saturday meeting, Gareff announced that Pete Roselle, commissioner of the National Football League, has authorized that working agreements may be arranged between individual teams in both pro leagues.

The Philadelphia Phillies have finished last in the National League for the past four seasons.

Bill Casper Takes 1st At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — "The Lord has been good to me this year," sighed bulky Bill Casper. He had just picked up $5,300 first money by one shot over sagging Mike Souchak in the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament Sunday.

In a finish reminiscent of Casper's come from behind charge on the closing holes three weeks ago at Miami, Fla., the Apple Valley, Calif., professional squeezed through by a stroke after being three down with six holes to play.

He shot a final-round 68, three under par, for a 275 total. Souchak, out in the tournament's best nine, 31, took 38 coming back for 69 and 276. He won $3,400.

"It's a crazy game," summed up Casper, who now has won $22,600 on tour this year and fin-

Robinson Can't Recall When Reds Started Well

By Dick Barnes
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rightfielder Frank Robinson has no explanation for the pattern, but he says, "I don't remember a Cincinnati club ever starting well, and this is my seventh year."

The Reds lost eight in a row early in 1961 before recovering to win the National League pennant. So far in 1961, they've won only two of seven.

But thanks to Robinson's backhand and knee-high stabs of two Jim Davenport drives Sunday, the Reds beat San Francisco 4-3 and salvaged one game of the three-game series.

"When we play good ball, we win," comments Robinson. "But we didn't look good losing, like on Saturday" — when Cincinnati made six errors in three innings.

"But I don't think we've been worried," says 1961's most valuable player. "I think we can win again—we're stronger because of our bench."

Manager Fred Hutchinson, claiming one win in San Francisco was "at least better than none," says "the whole thing is the pitching.

"Purkey was about the same as in his last win, but otherwise our pitching hasn't been any good. But we know we've got it and it'll come around."

Righthander Bob Purkey shut out the Giants until a three-run rally chased him in the eighth and brought Jim Brosnan to the rescue.

Lumber Industry Offers New Construction Setup

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The lumber industry has introduced a new house construction system expected to provide better - designed homes at less cost.

Involving a new concept of coordinated modular dimensioning of house construction, the system was introduced to members of the trade press, government representatives, mortgage lenders and executives of the home building industry at a meeting in the National Housing Center here.

Developed by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association in cooperation with Richard B. Pollman, consultant, and Home Planners, Inc., the new method is a part of the NLMA National Wood Promotion Program.

The system, to be known as "UNICOM," will permit faster planning and erection of a house with benefits to both builder and home buyer. Builder inventory costs will be cut because the number of elements needed for maximum design flexibility are reduced.

And, since the system is based on conventional arrangement of framing members and provides for more efficient use of lumber in home construction, consumers will benefit by obtaining a soundly built house with good design at less cost than previously possible. The system is applicable to the total house, including floors, walls, roof, partitions and stairways.

Development of the system was highly recommended to the lumber industry by the National Association of Home Builders and the result has been approved by the NAHB Research Institute.

UNICOM (the name was chosen because the use of modular coordinated dimensions establishes a uniform method for the manufacture of components) is applicable to on-site or shop fabrication and facilitates design of houses to conform to accepted plans and elevations. Since it is based on standard lumber sizes, it may be used efficiently by the large builder or by the custom builder who erects only a few houses each year.

Tomato aspic makes an excellent first - course salad if it is accompanied by anchovies or sardines. Garnish the combination with water cress or other salad greens.

Middle-Income Home Programs Are Pushed

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The movement of families in and out of big cities in the United States has gone through a number of cycles.

For the most part, these migrations have been one way or the other at a particular time. Today, however, there is a cross-current of shifting populations, caused mainly by the twin factors of distance and economics.

As more and more families moved to the suburbs, within reasonable commuting distance of their city jobs, housing in those sections became more and more scarce. This forced middle - income families to move farther out in order to obtain adequate living quarters within their means.

Metropolitan areas of big cities once were considered anything within a radius of 15 to 20 miles. This increased to 25 and 30 miles and kept on increasing until now the metropolitan areas of many large cities extend to 50 miles.

Many families, especially those whose children had married and set out on their own, began to move back toward and into the cities, mostly to apartments.

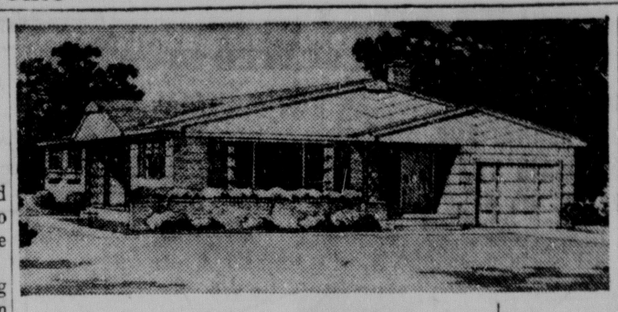

This might have had a settling effect on suburbia's population problems except for one thing: luxury apartments were easy to locate, middle - income apartments were not.

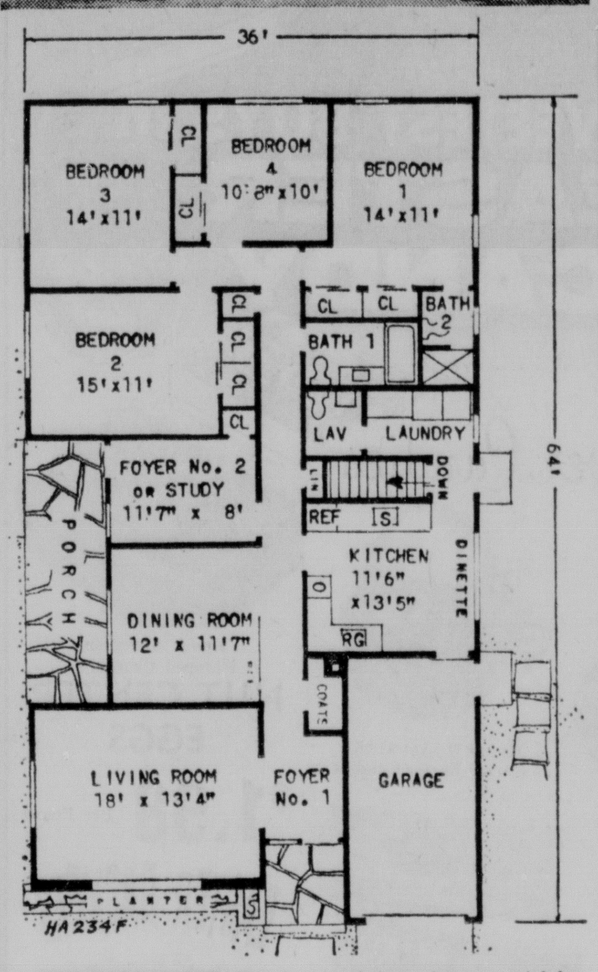

Some large cities already have taken steps to correct the situation, although most efforts are still in the planning stage.

One of those leading the fight for more middle - income housing is Louis Sacher, who has appeared before many federal housing agencies and congressional committees on this subject and who formerly was economic adviser on housing to New York's Mayor Robert Wagner.

It is Sacher's contention that federal and local government assistance is necessary to bridge the gap in the construction of middle - income housing which builders can not cross by themselves.

According to latest estimates, about one-third of the population never visits a dentist.

FITS NARROW LOT. This fine ranch home has a special feature—it will fit a lot as narrow as 50 feet and still give you four bedrooms, two baths and an attached garage. If you have a wider lot, you can turn the house so its long side faces front. There is an alternate foyer and big windows will face the street either way the house is placed. The home has 1,820 square feet and architect for plan HA234F is Alan Wood Fraser, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

The first truly successful cable laid across the Atlantic Ocean was in 1866. It ran from Valentia, Ireland, to Heart's Content, Newfoundland.

Ohio Driver Charged In Pedestrian Death

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Donald Garey, 31, of Corning has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident in the hit-skip death of Mrs. Susan Van Person, 60, of Glouster Saturday night. Other charges may be filed today, the highway patrol reported.

Garey was arrested at his sister's home in nearby Glouster a few hours after Mrs. Van Person was struck as she walked along Ohio 13 at the edge of Glouster.

Citizen Sees Income Tax 'Go Down Drain'

He drove up to a curbside mail box at the post office Sunday and attempted to drop the envelope in the letter slot. He missed. The return went through a street grating and into a storm sewer.

Firemen retrieved it after a brief search.

Finnish-Style Steam Baths Are Popular

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Newest challenge to the do-it-yourself set is the family sauna, a Finnish steam bath that is hot as blazes.

American women have been buoyed to own one by reports that the baths are beneficial to the skin and aid in weight reduction. With high hopes for a home beauty salon, they are likely to inform their handyman that building one is a cinch. Could be.

Saunas can be built even in a large closet or two small back-to-back closets with the partition removed, now that specially built electric and gas heaters may be used instead of the traditional coal stove.

Most sauna devotees like their hot bath in a separate structure, ideal alongside a pool where they can have their hot bath and jump in cool water, Finnish style.

The difference is that the Finns choose snow or icy water for their plunge - after - sauna, claiming a 250-degree body heat keeps one from feeling the cold. All you feel is exhilaration, they say.

Finnish saunas usually are built of aspen wood, but our own woods, such as redwood, offer the the same advantages, say lumber men. Whatever wood is used, it must have high insulation value and be durable.

Construction joints should remain tight. It should resist checking and splitting. Low-density woods help prevent loss of heat and contribute to the efficient and economical operation of a sauna, say builders.

A home unit could be about six by eight feet with a seven - foot ceiling if that is all the space available.

Commercial saunas are bigger with benches in tiers, the higher the hotter. But most family saunas use long benches on the floor.

One of the largest redwood producers, Simpson Timber, cautions that if redwood is used in a sauna it should be of good quality, kiln dried. Cheaper woods cannot withstand temperature changes, and wood shrinkage and warping can result.

Sauna walls are of the 2-by-4-foot construction usually, with full 3½-inch batt-type insulation between studs, with foil or vapor barrier between studs and interior paneling.

Tongue and groove inch - thick redwood is used at the ceiling, and experts suggest that 5½ inches of insulation with complete vapor barrier is required there. The wood is put on floors, walls and ceilings over aluminum foil, shiny side facing the room.

If one wants a concrete floor with drain because of a shower, removable redwood duckboards may be placed over it for foot comfort. Doors made of double-thick redwood provide enough insulation, say experts.

Vents are put directly opposite the heater, six inches from the floor, six inches from the ceiling or six inches from the top and bottom of the door.

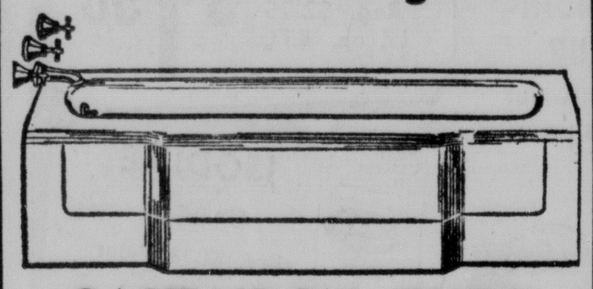

The heater can be located anywhere in the room, but should not be recessed. An attractive hinged grille may enclose it. Electric wiring should meet local codes.

Benches should be long enough so even the tallest member of the family can stretch out for even heat distribution over the body, but nailheads should be sunk at least a sixteenth of an inch.

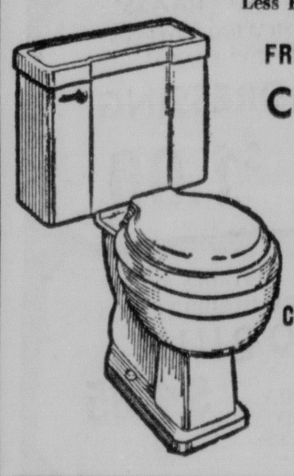

Although for a thousand years the sauna was a wood-burning-and-rocks heat bath in Scandinavian countries, they too are adopting modern heating methods in many areas to speed up their bath.

The motion picture industry had its beginning in 1896.

Lumber Industry Offers New Construction Setup

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The lumber industry has introduced a new house construction system expected to provide better - designed homes at less cost.

Involving a new concept of coordinated modular dimensioning of house construction, the system was introduced to members of the trade press, government representatives, mortgage lenders and executives of the home building industry at a meeting in the National Housing Center here.

Developed by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association in cooperation with Richard B. Pollman, consultant, and Home Planners, Inc., the new method is a part of the NLMA National Wood Promotion Program.

The system, to be known as "UNICOM," will permit faster planning and erection of a house with benefits to both builder and home buyer. Builder inventory costs will be cut because the number of elements needed for maximum design flexibility are reduced.

And, since the system is based on conventional arrangement of framing members and provides for more efficient use of lumber in home construction, consumers will benefit by obtaining a soundly built house with good design at less cost than previously possible. The system is applicable to the total house, including floors, walls, roof, partitions and stairways.

Development of the system was highly recommended to the lumber industry by the National Association of Home Builders and the result has been approved by the NAHB Research Institute.

UNICOM (the name was chosen because the use of modular coordinated dimensions establishes a uniform method for the manufacture of components) is applicable to on-site or shop fabrication and facilitates design of houses to conform to accepted plans and elevations. Since it is based on standard lumber sizes, it may be used efficiently by the large builder or by the custom builder who erects only a few houses each year.

Middle-Income Home Programs Are Pushed

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The movement of families in and out of big cities in the United States has gone through a number of cycles.

For the most part, these migrations have been one way or the other at a particular time. Today, however, there is a cross-current of shifting populations, caused mainly by the twin factors of distance and economics.

As more and more families moved to the suburbs, within reasonable commuting distance of their city jobs, housing in those sections became more and more scarce. This forced middle - income families to move farther out in order to obtain adequate living quarters within their means.

Metropolitan areas of big cities once were considered anything within a radius of 15 to 20 miles. This increased to 25 and 30 miles and kept on increasing until now the metropolitan areas of many large cities extend to 50 miles.

Many families, especially those whose children had married and set out on their own, began to move back toward and into the cities, mostly to apartments.

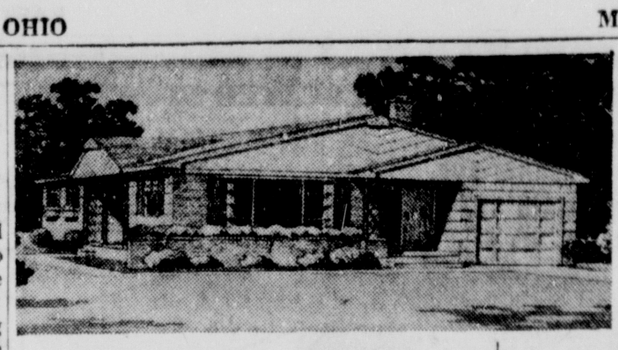

This might have had a settling effect on suburbia's population problems except for one thing: luxury apartments were easy to locate, middle - income apartments were not.

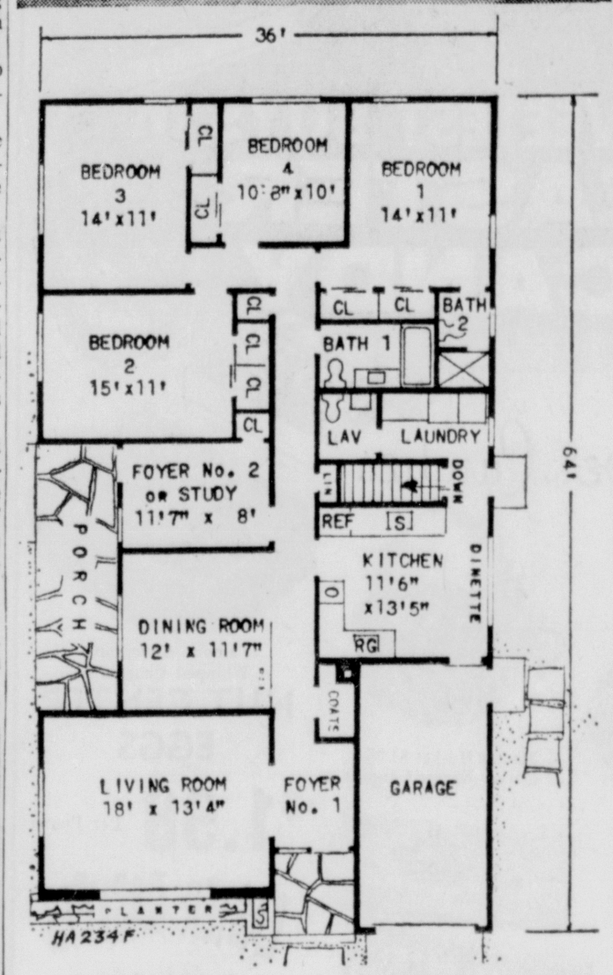

Some large cities already have taken steps to correct the situation, although most efforts are still in the planning stage.

One of those leading the fight for more middle - income housing is Louis Sacher, who has appeared before many federal housing agencies and congressional committees on this subject and who formerly was economic adviser on housing to New York's Mayor Robert Wagner.

It is Sacher's contention that federal and local government assistance is necessary to bridge the gap in the construction of middle - income housing which builders can not cross by themselves.

According to latest estimates, about one-third of the population never visits a dentist.

FITS NARROW LOT. This fine ranch home has a special feature—it will fit a lot as narrow as 50 feet and still give you four bedrooms, two baths and an attached garage. If you have a wider lot, you can turn the house so its long side faces front. There is an alternate foyer and big windows will face the street either way the house is placed. The home has 1,820 square feet and architect for plan HA234F is Alan Wood Fraser, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

The first truly successful cable laid across the Atlantic Ocean was in 1866. It ran from Valentia, Ireland, to Heart's Content, Newfoundland.

Ohio Driver Charged In Pedestrian Death

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Donald Garey, 31, of Corning has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident in the hit-skip death of Mrs. Susan Van Person, 60, of Glouster Saturday night. Other charges may be filed today, the highway patrol reported.

Garey was arrested at his sister's home in nearby Glouster a few hours after Mrs. Van Person was struck as she walked along Ohio 13 at the edge of Glouster.

Citizen Sees Income Tax 'Go Down Drain'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—R. W. Richmond saw his income tax return go down the drain—literally.

He drove up to a curbside mail box at the post office Sunday and attempted to drop the envelope in the letter slot. He missed. The return went through a street grating and into a storm sewer.

Firemen retrieved it after a brief search.

Finnish-Style Steam Baths Are Popular

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Newest challenge to the do-it-yourself set is the family sauna, a Finnish steam bath that is hot as blazes.

American women have been buoyed to own one by reports that the baths are beneficial to the skin and aid in weight reduction. With high hopes for a home beauty salon, they are likely to inform their handyman that building one is a cinch. Could be.

Saunas can be built even in a large closet or two small back-to-back closets with the partition removed, now that specially built electric and gas heaters may be used instead of the traditional coal stove.

Most sauna devotees like their hot bath in a separate structure, ideal alongside a pool where they can have their hot bath and jump in cool water, Finnish style.

The difference is that the Finns choose snow or icy water for their plunge - after - sauna, claiming a 250-degree body heat keeps one from feeling the cold. All you feel is exhilaration, they say.

Finnish saunas usually are built of aspen wood, but our own woods, such as redwood, offer the the same advantages, say lumber men. Whatever wood is used, it must have high insulation value and be durable.

Construction joints should remain tight. It should resist checking and splitting. Low-density woods help prevent loss of heat and contribute to the efficient and economical operation of a sauna, say builders.

A home unit could be about six by eight feet with a seven - foot ceiling if that is all the space available.

Commercial saunas are bigger with benches in tiers, the higher the hotter. But most family saunas use long benches on the floor.

One of the largest redwood producers, Simpson Timber, cautions that if redwood is used in a sauna it should be of good quality, kiln dried. Cheaper woods cannot withstand temperature changes, and wood shrinkage and warping can result.

Sauna walls are of the 2-by-4-foot construction usually, with full 3½-inch batt-type insulation between studs, with foil or vapor barrier between studs and interior paneling.

Tongue and groove inch - thick redwood is used at the ceiling, and experts suggest that 5½ inches of insulation with complete vapor barrier is required there. The wood is put on floors, walls and ceilings over aluminum foil, shiny side facing the room.

If one wants a concrete floor with drain because of a shower, removable redwood duckboards may be placed over it for foot comfort. Doors made of double-thick redwood provide enough insulation, say experts.

Vents are put directly opposite the heater, six inches from the floor, six inches from the ceiling or six inches from the top and bottom of the door.

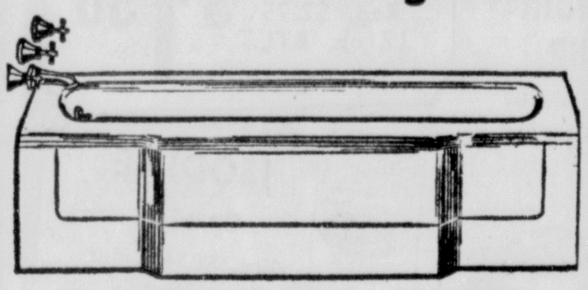

The heater can be located anywhere in the room, but should not be recessed. An attractive hinged grille may enclose it. Electric wiring should meet local codes.

Benches should be long enough so even the tallest member of the family can stretch out for even heat distribution over the body, but nailheads should be sunk at least a sixteenth of an inch.

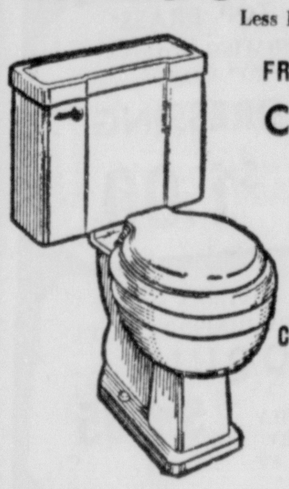

Although for a thousand years the sauna was a wood-burning-and-rocks heat bath in Scandinavian countries, they too are adopting modern heating methods in many areas to speed up their bath.

The motion picture industry had its beginning in 1896.

Built-In Unit Suggested In Dining Room

PORTLAND, Ore. — If you have lovely dining room storage furniture pieces and if your room is large enough, use them. But don't overlook the possibility of teaming those pieces with built-in storage units.

Beautiful and well designed as any storage furniture like the buffet and sideboard may be, rarely will it offer adequate space for a family's needs. Result: the dishes are stowed in kitchen cupboards and Mom must hike a country mile to set the dinner table.

A smart homemaker will solve the problem by including in her dining room some type of built-in storage, spacious enough to house all her dinnerware from the turkey platter to everyday cups and plates.

When the built-ins are to be used in conjunction with storage furniture, they should be as unobtrusive as possible. Handsome cabinet work is an asset to any room, but not when it might detract from featured furniture items.

Probably the wisest approach is to conceal cupboards within a wall. The trick is simply to panel a wall in a wood which pleases your taste and build the cupboards behind the wall, with flush doors made of the same paneling so that, when closed, they blend perfectly into the wall surface.

All visible hardware can be eliminated with the use of piano hinges and touch latches. The touch latches literally operate on touch, springing open and closed when pressure from fingertips is applied against the cupboard door.

For best results in disguising such built-in facilities, use 1-by-4 or 1-by-6 tongue-and-groove or V-joint lumber. Joints of the doors then can be made to coincide with the joints between panel boards. And matching of panel boards used for the doors and those used for the wall surface will be very much easier.

Woods favored for such installations include west coast hemlock, which is a rich champagne in color when finished clear, and western red cedar, a wood of deeper shade, more to the red-brown. Both are delicately grained.

Use a hard finish, non-gloss lacquer or varnish for the cupboard doors and wall paneling. A wax or rez finish eventually will be penetrated by oil from the fingertips and stains resulting can be removed only by sanding.

WHEN THE DINING ROOM buffet or sideboard lacks adequate storage space, a built-in can be your best friend. This china closet is concealed within a wall paneled in tongue-and-groove west coast hemlock. Doors of matching hemlock panels are invisible when closed. Touch latches eliminate exterior hardware on doors.

Columbus Man Feted By Fraternal Council

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Council of Fraternal and Service Organizations wound up their annual convention here Sunday by naming Willard D. Campbell of Columbus the "fraternalist of the year."

Campbell is a past president of the Ohio Moose Association, former supreme governor of the order nationally, and also is active in the Eagles, Elks, Order of Odd Fellows and is a 32nd degree mason.

At an election, John Quinn of Sidney was named president for the coming year. Others elected were: F. E. Manning, Akron, first vice president; Lloyd Hawley, Columbus, second vice president; Leroy Cunningham, Columbus, third vice president, and William O. Donohue, Bellaire, secretary-treasurer.

Professor Dies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Funeral services were incomplete for William W. Hewett, longtime economics professor and chairman of the department of the University of Cincinnati. Dr. Hewett, 64, who joined the faculty in 1929, died at home Sunday after an apparent heart attack.

Simple Window Alteration Can Help Transform House

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

The average home owner who takes pride in his house is always thinking of ways and means to improve it.

Usually this takes the form of a change in the color scheme, better planting around the grounds or some other obvious improvement.

Very few, however, think about the tremendous difference it would make in the appearance of a house if something were done about the windows. When all is said and done, the windows are called the eyes of the house and a change for the better in them works a marvelous uplift.

A typical double - hung, standard-size window such as one sees in the average house is plain, stark and certainly not decorative. This window can be made into something worth looking at, and at very little cost.

A transformation can be made by placing two long shutters against the window trim and setting a plywood panel on the wall beneath the window, with matching trim brought down below the window sill. The shutters, panel and trim are painted to match the window and trim.

Shutters of the type described are available in building supply establishments and are put up simply by a screw at top and bottom. The panel installation is made right over the house wall, without any cutting into the exterior finish.

It is easy to visualize what your house would look like with this arrangement if you tack up two strips of paper, shutter size, and a paper panel under the window.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Services will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday for a prominent Russian Orthodox clergyman and his wife who were killed in a one-car traffic accident in Sagamore Hills.

They are the Rt. Rev. Jason R. Kappanadze, 87, and his wife, Mary, 81, both of Cleveland. They were passengers in a car that skidded off icy Ohio 631 and hit a tree Sunday. The driver, Alex Kwatkowich, 71, of Valley View, was hospitalized and listed in fair condition.

New Heating Boilers Boon To Bungalow

Today, heating plants can be placed in carpots, closets, attics, tool houses, or even in the back yard.

The reason for this flexibility is the advances in equipment design made by heating engineers. These advances resulted in a hydronic (hot water heating) boiler that effectively heats the house no matter where it's installed.

A major design feature of the heating plant is its compactness. Smaller than many home washing machines, it can heat a house that once used a large, cumbersome heating plant. Also its small size enables home owners to place it in any out-of-the-way area. At least one home owner is known to have buried his boiler in a pit in his back yard, the National Better Heating - Cooling Council reports.

Now, owners of summer bungalows have discovered that, with a hydronic boiler they can remodel their bungalows into year-'round homes.

Many summer bungalows are built without basements. Some are without attic space. Thus, the arrival on the scene of flexible hydronic boilers has precipitated a boom in bungalow remodeling.

The "heart" of the boiler is a tiny, silent pump. The pump circulates heated water from the hydronic boiler through small, finger-size piping to room heating units.

The high heat retention power of water allows heat to be conveyed over long distances, from boilers to room heating units, without a noticeable decrease in temperature.

The room units, usually baseboard heating panels, emit both types of heat essential for complete home comfort — sunlike radiant heat to warm solid objects such as walls and floors and convected heat to warm the air.

Arizona Man Loses Draw To Pack Horse

CAVE CREEK, Ariz. (AP)—Hubert E. Yates, 29, Phoenix, was shot by his horse Sunday.

Yates was unsaddling a packhorse when it kicked his revolver from his holster, causing the gun to fire. Deputy Sheriff Lewis Forman said the bullet hit Yates in the leg.

Man Found Drowned

Also its small size enables home owners to place it in any out-of-the-way area. At least one home owner is known to have buried his boiler in a pit in his back yard, the National Better Heating - Cooling Council reports.

Now, owners of summer bungalows have discovered that, with a hydronic boiler they can remodel their bungalows into year-'round homes.

Many summer bungalows are built without basements. Some are without attic space. Thus, the arrival on the scene of flexible hydronic boilers has precipitated a boom in bungalow remodeling.

The "heart" of the boiler is a tiny, silent pump. The pump circulates heated water from the hydronic boiler through small, finger-size piping to room heating units.

The high heat retention power of water allows heat to be conveyed over long distances, from boilers to room heating units, without a noticeable decrease in temperature.

The room units, usually baseboard heating panels, emit both types of heat essential for complete home comfort — sunlike radiant heat to warm solid objects such as walls and floors and convected heat to warm the air.

Germans Say 'Nein' To Plugs

COLOGNE — West Germans are in a constant state of rebellion against authority of any kind. It is a reaction to the years of Nazism's brutal rule. Germans here drive too fast because there's a speed limit. One citizen recently took his speeding ticket as high as the supreme court. He lost, but he felt better.

Hal Humphrey

TV viewers in West Germany dislike intensely the commercials which are clustered in five-minute segments two to three times an evening.

The resentment is not against the commercials themselves. What the viewers are sore about is the fact that they pay a $1.25 license fee each month to the postmaster general for their TV sets and then the state allows private advertisers to harass them with sales pitches.

"TV HERE is supposed to be a public utility, isn't it? Then why should we put up with commercials?" asks one irate German.

TV viewers like to refer to these commercial segments as "the pause that refreshes." The implication is plain. They leave the room when the commercials come on.

Despite this irritation, West Germans are avid TV fans. They own 6,260,000 sets, the largest number of any country on the Continent. Britain is the only other European nation with more TV sets.

West German TV exists solely as nonprofit organizations set up by the state governments in 8 of the 11 states. But the men running these TV operations insist they aren't controlled or censored by either the state or federal government.

THEY GO out of their way to prove this, as was the case recently when WDR in Cologne risked incurring the ill will of the French government, as well as its own, by sending a newsman to Algiers to interview OAS leader Salan.

Daniel Schorr, the CBS correspondent for West Germany, is almost a national hero here since doing the CBS Reports "Beyond the Wall" documentary on East Germany. The fact that Dan is Jewish has not hurt him either.

News and documentary programs are very popular with West German viewers. Franz Woerdemann, who heads up that department of Cologne's WDR TV-radio station, says it's because "we're sitting on a volcano, and our historical background makes us even more aware of this."

NOT LONG AGO the West German "Deutsches Fernsehen," which is the TV network comprising the eight state-sponsored TV stations, telecast a 14-part documentary series called "The Third Reich."

It was a damning indictment of Hitler's regime, and some viewers resented it. They accused the producer of being pro-Russian, although part of his chin was shot off while fighting Stalin's legions on the Moscow front.

The social makeup of the policy councils which "advise" each of West Germany's state TV companies represents Socialists, Christian Democrats, trade unions and the Catholic Church. Obviously the church has had its influence on the programs imported from America. Shows with violence are conspicuously absent.

"LASSIE," Loretta Young and "Vater Ist Der Beste" (Father Knows Best) are popular imports. All are dubbed into German, and Austria in turn buys them from Germany.

The tastes of the Germans and Austrians are just as polyglot as we find in the U.S. The Germans in Cologne frequently have trouble even understanding the speech of the Bavarians in southern Germany, much less finding a common denominator of tastes in entertainment.

In Austria, although the language is German, there is considerable contrast in culture. For example, the program director of Austria's TV network, Herr Friedrich Hansen-Love, says Austrian viewers are somewhat baffled by the "Father Knows Best" series.

"Here the father already knows best, so we ask ourselves why in America you keep wanting to prove it," he says.

Parade Due Shah Of Iran

For Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, that included observation of military maneuvers and inspection of missile sites and other facilities at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

For Empress Farah, it was a night at the theater and visits to two art museums — the Guggenheim and the Museum of Modern Art.

The empress arrived from Washington Saturday. The shah, with a brief stint at the controls of President Kennedy's four-engined plane, flew up from Florida Sunday night to join her at a private dinner given by Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

"Fantastic!" was the word the shah used to sum up his reaction to the various space age items he saw in a 2½ hour tour of Cape Canaveral.

The shah donned the flight safety helmet of the missileman to take a close look at a Saturn rocket. He walked around the base and took an elevator to the 265-foot level of the service tower to look down on the missile and gain a panoramic view of the Cape.

Earlier, he was briefed at Mercury control center on how orbiting space pilots are tracked, and he asked many questions about John H. Glenn's three orbits of the earth.

'Buddy' Enlistments Offered By Air Force

Coming in time for the post-graduation rush, the Air Force has announced "Operation Buddy Flight," in which young men may enlist and train together at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex.

Sgt. James Lee, recruiter for Columbiana and Hancock Counties, said he is now booking "Buddy Flights" for June for groups of two men or more who are guaranteed enlistment and basic training together.

In the past, recruiting regulations prohibited shipping of men unless they were assigned to certain special categories. Now, the regulation gives the green light to high school graduates who want to leave and train with their buddies.

Sgt. Lee, whose office is at the City Hall, phone FU. 6-6181, said interested men may contact him to apply for entrance into the new Aerospace Force. Testing will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Those with passing scores will be scheduled for physical examinations during May.

Negley Driver Fined For Lisbon Collision

LISBON — Robert Jay Gorby, 19, of Negley R.D. 1 was fined $50 and costs Friday by Mayor Dean Stockman after he was found guilty of failing to yield the right-of-way in a truck-car accident which caused an estimated $1,300 damages.

Gorby was cited after his car hit a truck at the N. Market and Pine Sts. intersection Thursday evening. The truck, driven by Wilbur Mattix, 50, of 316 N. Jefferson St., veered out of control and hit the home of Gilbert Cannon.

Month Proclaimed For Teaching Career

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet has proclaimed April as "Teaching Career Month" in East Liverpool, urging residents to consider their responsibility in helping recruit qualified teachers and keep them in the schools.

Mrs. Hazel Neiser, presient of the East Liverpool Teachers Association, which is the local sponsor, said the basic aim of the the observance, whose national theme is "Aim for Excellence" is to call public attention to the need for getting and keeping the best possible teachers in schools and colleges.

Cleveland Police Hunt Slayer Of Store Clerk

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were searching for a 25-year-old man whose picture was identified by three persons as the gunman who fatally wounded a drugstore clerk Saturday night.

Kenneth L. Martin, 53, of suburban Lakewood, was shot in a robbery at Al's Cut Rate Drugstore Saturday.

The boys were picked up as they walked along Liberty Street, about two blocks from the Elmwood Home Products store. A few minutes earlier, a night watchman at the store heard a window breaking in the rear of the building. He called police. One of the youths had a cut on his hand, which was wrapped in a heavy sock.

NOT LONG AGO the West German "Deutsches Fernsehen," which is the TV network comprising the eight state-sponsored TV stations, telecast a 14-part documentary series called "The Third Reich."

It was a damning indictment of Hitler's regime, and some viewers resented it. They accused the producer of being pro-Russian, although part of his chin was shot off while fighting Stalin's legions on the Moscow front.

The social makeup of the policy councils which "advise" each of West Germany's state TV companies represents Socialists, Christian Democrats, trade unions and the Catholic Church. Obviously the church has had its influence on the programs imported from America. Shows with violence are conspicuously absent.

"LASSIE," Loretta Young and "Vater Ist Der Beste" (Father Knows Best) are popular imports. All are dubbed into German, and Austria in turn buys them from Germany.

The tastes of the Germans and Austrians are just as polyglot as we find in the U.S. The Germans in Cologne frequently have trouble even understanding the speech of the Bavarians in southern Germany, much less finding a common denominator of tastes in entertainment.

In Austria, although the language is German, there is considerable contrast in culture. For example, the program director of Austria's TV network, Herr Friedrich Hansen-Love, says Austrian viewers are somewhat baffled by the "Father Knows Best" series.

"Here the father already knows best, so we ask ourselves why in America you keep wanting to prove it," he says.

Parade Due Shah Of Iran

For Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, that included observation of military maneuvers and inspection of missile sites and other facilities at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

For Empress Farah, it was a night at the theater and visits to two art museums — the Guggenheim and the Museum of Modern Art.

The empress arrived from Washington Saturday. The shah, with a brief stint at the controls of President Kennedy's four-engined plane, flew up from Florida Sunday night to join her at a private dinner given by Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

"Fantastic!" was the word the shah used to sum up his reaction to the various space age items he saw in a 2½ hour tour of Cape Canaveral.

The shah donned the flight safety helmet of the missileman to take a close look at a Saturn rocket. He walked around the base and took an elevator to the 265-foot level of the service tower to look down on the missile and gain a panoramic view of the Cape.

Earlier, he was briefed at Mercury control center on how orbiting space pilots are tracked, and he asked many questions about John H. Glenn's three orbits of the earth.

'Buddy' Enlistments Offered By Air Force

Coming in time for the post-graduation rush, the Air Force has announced "Operation Buddy Flight," in which young men may enlist and train together at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex.

Sgt. James Lee, recruiter for Columbiana and Hancock Counties, said he is now booking "Buddy Flights" for June for groups of two men or more who are guaranteed enlistment and basic training together.

In the past, recruiting regulations prohibited shipping of men unless they were assigned to certain special categories. Now, the regulation gives the green light to high school graduates who want to leave and train with their buddies.

Sgt. Lee, whose office is at the City Hall, phone FU. 6-6181, said interested men may contact him to apply for entrance into the new Aerospace Force. Testing will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. Those with passing scores will be scheduled for physical examinations during May.

LISBON — Robert Jay Gorby, 19, of Negley R.D. 1 was fined $50 and costs Friday by Mayor Dean Stockman after he was found guilty of failing to yield the right-of-way in a truck-car accident which caused an estimated $1,300 damages.

Gorby was cited after his car hit a truck at the N. Market and Pine Sts. intersection Thursday evening. The truck, driven by Wilbur Mattix, 50, of 316 N. Jefferson St., veered out of control and hit the home of Gilbert Cannon.

Storm Mars Palm Sunday

A snowstorm and stiff winds, accompanied by unseasonably low temperatures, made it seem more like Christmas than Palm Sunday in the East Liverpool district yesterday

Church-goers battled snow and slush, particularly in the suburbs, as they marked an event on the religious calendar that generally is a time of bright sunshine and spring flowers.

A white blanket covered the suburban area in the morning and it was augmented by several more stiff snow flurries during the day. Sleet was reported in some areas yesterday afternoon.

The Ohio forecaster said better weather is in sight today and Tuesday.

It will be mostly sunny today and not so cold, with a high of 40-46. Tonight will be clear and cool, with a low of 22-28. Tuesday will be fair and warmer.

Wry Look Taken At 'Outs' Of Life By Robert Frost

"There's more poetry outside of verse than in, more religion outside of church than in and more love outside of marriage than in."

The salty-tongued 88-year-old poet made the remark Sunday while reading chapter and verse on a whole variety of topics before a group gathered to do him honor.

Frost was honored by a Manhattan branch of the Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Association as "America's leading poet, one who speaks with a clear strong voice of strength and compassion."

On charges that America is becoming soft: "There is nothing so gentle as strength."

On leadership: "You have to find a person that is a little high-handed, a little outrageous and one who will take the hint from the people."

Frost, who read some of his poetry at President Kennedy's inauguration, was full of praise for the President as a man who has "some poetry in him."

Storm Mars Palm Sunday

A snowstorm and stiff winds, accompanied by unseasonably low temperatures, made it seem more like Christmas than Palm Sunday in the East Liverpool district yesterday.

Church-goers battled snow and slush, particularly in the suburbs, as they marked an event on the religious calendar that generally is a time of bright sunshine and spring flowers.

A white blanket covered the suburban area in the morning and it was augmented by several more stiff snow flurries during the day. Sleet was reported in some areas yesterday afternoon.

The Ohio forecaster said better weather is in sight today and Tuesday.

It will be mostly sunny today and not so cold, with a high of 40-46. Tonight will be clear and cool, with a low of 22-28. Tuesday will be fair and warmer.

500 At Midland Band 'Carnival Of Melody'

About 500 attended the Midland High School band's annual spring concert, "Carnival of Melody" Friday evening at the high school auditorium.

On behalf of the band, Mario Ulizio, student conductor, presented a pen and pencil set to Dominic DiVecchio, band director.

An art exhibit was also held with Lawrence Novak, art instructor, and Ben Kaye, art supervisor, in charge.

Wry Look Taken At 'Outs' Of Life By Robert Frost

"There's more poetry outside of verse than in, more religion outside of church than in and more love outside of marriage than in."

The salty-tongued 88-year-old poet made the remark Sunday while reading chapter and verse on a whole variety of topics before a group gathered to do him honor.

Frost was honored by a Manhattan branch of the Young Men's and Young Women's Hebrew Association as "America's leading poet, one who speaks with a clear strong voice of strength and compassion."

On charges that America is becoming soft: "There is nothing so gentle as strength."

On leadership: "You have to find a person that is a little high-handed, a little outrageous and one who will take the hint from the people."

Frost, who read some of his poetry at President Kennedy's inauguration, was full of praise for the President as a man who has "some poetry in him."

Fish Fry Starts Early

LISBON — Because of the large number of carry-out orders and reservations for the Lisbon Puritan Club's fish supper Tuesday at the First Christian Church, serving will begin at 4:30 p.m., instead of 5, as originally scheduled, the club said today. Proceeds will be used for community projects.

Mother Learns 'Dead' Son Alive

NICASTRO, Italy (AP)—Every day for 22 years Anna Rocca placed flowers on the local tomb of the unknown soldier in memory of her soldier son.

Cesare Rocca went off to war in 1936 as a member of Benito Mussolini's black-shirt troops in Ethiopia. His last letter was written in June 1940. After the war the Defense Ministry ruled him lost and awarded Mrs. Rocca a monthly pension of 10,000 lire—$16.

Over the weekend a letter arrived from Ethiopia, from Cesare to his brother, Vincenzo. Now 52, Cesare said he had married an Ethiopian woman and had two sons. He gave no explanation for his long silence but said he planned to come home soon to see his mother.

Actress Claimed

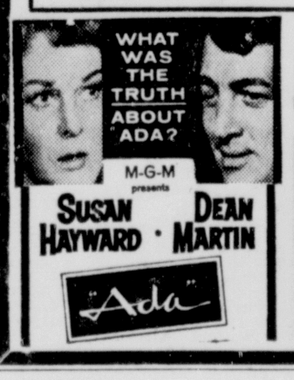

NEW YORK (AP) — Esther Minciotti, 74, veteran character actress who had appeared in many films, stage and television productions, died Sunday. Mrs. Minciotti, who was born in Italy, came to the United States in 1908.

OFF THE RECORD

"You never give up, do you, Cecil?"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do about some blue jeans that are very faded looking, but are otherwise in good condition?

A. Dye them. One package of dark blue dye should rejuvenate three or four pairs of jeans. Just dissolve it in a little warm water, add to the water in the washing machine, and drop in the jeans. One or two treatments like this during the life of the jeans will keep them new-looking all the time.

Q. How can I protect some of the tall trees on my lawn from danger of lightning?

A. Attach (preferably by soldering) several sharp - pointed three-inch copper wires to the end of the long wire, and carry this as far as possible up into the tree. Staple it to the trunk or a branch. Then trail the wire down the trunk of the tree, with a staple here and there, and ground it to a piece of pipe driven into the ground at the base. Several trees can be equipped in this way at little cost, thus protecting the premises.

Q. How can I remove some carbon stains from fabrics?

A. These can often be sponged out with carbon tetrachloride. To remove any remaining traces of dyestuff, flush out with a solution of water, detergent, and a small amount of ammonia.

Q. How can I make a good frosting for glass windows?

A. By dissolving three teaspoonfuls of Epsom salts in a glass of water, adding a teaspoonful of liquid glue, stirring this thoroughly, then applying to the glass with a brush.

Q. How can I clean copper easily and economically?

A. Rub it with half a lemon dipped in salt, then rinse it in hot water, and polish with a soft cloth.

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANTS

QUESTION: Are there man-eating plants?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: No one has found such a plant yet. There are insect-eating plants, but none of these has been found large enough to consume even a small anmial Plants that eat insects are called "carnivorous plants," from Latin words meaning meat-eating. The illustration shows two kinds of these plants. The one at the top, called "Sundew," has many hairs, each topped with a drop of shiny-looking fluid which glistens in the sunlight. To an insect this fluid looks like honey. The minute he touches the fluid, all the hairs fold downward. He is quickly pushed into the plant and drowned. The plant in the bottom picture is called the "Pitcher Plant." The inside of this plant is extremely slippery. An insect which lands on it slides down into a small pond of lovely green fluid in the middle of the plant. Many tiny hairs pointing downward prevent him from crawling out and he, too, drowns. Carnivorous plants can survive without digesting insects they trap, but they cannot live quite as well. They obtain nitrogen from these insects to add to the elements they obtain from the usual sources.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Carnivorous plants are perfectly safe for people. The Venus Fly Trap, which is one variety, is a popular house plant. If there is a botanical garden in your town or if you know someone who raises unusual plants, try to see some of them.

Preventive Vacation Backed For Reducing Heart Seizure

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Are you tired, tuckered out?

Would you like someone to foot your bill for several weeks in a beautiful vacation spot, away from the turmoil and stresses of daily life?

In the Soviet Union, Germany, Austria and Switzerland many people get just that kind of break every year, Dr. Wilhelm Raab, an energetic Vermont physician, said today.

There's a slight catch.

You wouldn't simply sit around and loaf. You would be taught to exercise every day thereafter to overcome "loafer's heart" and help yourself avoid the future heart attack, he said.

Raab, of the University of Vermont College of Medicine, is an exponent of exercise as one means to safeguard the human heart from the seemingly sudden heart attack. He himself exercises vigorously every day.

In the Soviet Union and other European countries, millions of persons have had the benefits of "preventive reconditioning" to reduce their chances of heart attacks, Raab told opening sessions of a symposium on coronary heart disease sponsored by the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital.

Governments, industries and social health insurance organizations have paid for the programs, Raab said, but nothing like this is yet organized in the United States.

Raab said these programs seem to have paid off for the "fatigued but not yet overly sick pre-patients" through less time lost from work and less incidence of fatal heart attacks.

He explained that many people have "loafer's heart" from too little physical activity. The heart doesn't develop reserve circulation or ability to stand up under stress either from sudden physical demands or sudden excitement and other emotional challenges.

Kentuckian Slain In Dispute Over Cities Population

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — An argument that went back seven weeks has led to the shooting death of William Bedford, 38, a construction laborer, police reported.

Bedford was shot six times late Sunday night as he entered a drinking spot next door to his home.

Detectives arrested Hercules Davies, 45, a neighbor of Bedford, and said he admitted the shooting.

No charge was filed immediately.

The two men had spent the evening in the tavern, drinking and talking about sports.

Detectives said Davies told them bad feelings cropped up anew between them about an argument that went back seven weeks.

The dispute: Whether nearby Covington, Ky., or Lexington, Ky., was bigger in population.

Lexington, in the 1960 census, had 62,810 population and Covington 60,376.

Repairs Started On Seaway Lock

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—Round-the-clock repair operations were underway today on the Eisenhower lock of the St. Lawrence Seaway to seal a crack 80 feet long that is expected to delay opening of the waterway by two weeks.

The seaway was scheduled to open for the season Sunday. The crack, in the lock sill, was discovered Thursday after the east gate of the lock vibrated during tests.

Joseph McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., announced Sunday that the contract for the repairs had been awarded to Merritt, Chapman and Scott and that work had begun at once. The Army Corps of Engineers is supervising.

The opening has been scheduled tentatively for April 29.

Preventive Vacation Backed For Reducing Heart Seizure

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Are you tired, tuckered out?

Would you like someone to foot your bill for several weeks in a beautiful vacation spot, away from the turmoil and stresses of daily life?

In the Soviet Union, Germany, Austria and Switzerland many people get just that kind of break every year, Dr. Wilhelm Raab, an energetic Vermont physician, said today.

You wouldn't simply sit around and loaf. You would be taught to exercise every day thereafter to overcome "loafer's heart" and help yourself avoid the future heart attack, he said.

Raab, of the University of Vermont College of Medicine, is an exponent of exercise as one means to safeguard the human heart from the seemingly sudden heart attack. He himself exercises vigorously every day.

In the Soviet Union and other European countries, millions of persons have had the benefits of "preventive reconditioning" to reduce their chances of heart attacks, Raab told opening sessions of a symposium on coronary heart disease sponsored by the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital.

Governments, industries and social health insurance organizations have paid for the programs, Raab said, but nothing like this is yet organized in the United States.

Raab said these programs seem to have paid off for the "fatigued but not yet overly sick pre-patients" through less time lost from work and less incidence of fatal heart attacks.

He explained that many people have "loafer's heart" from too little physical activity. The heart doesn't develop reserve circulation or ability to stand up under stress either from sudden physical demands or sudden excitement and other emotional challenges.
